10 Contests To Be Decided In Primaries

Mansfield voters will decide 10 municipal contests at the May 3 primaries on the basis of nominating petitions filed before the deadline yesterday with the county board of elections.

Forty-one candidates filed for the nominations for 13 city offices to be filled in November. There is a candidate for every nomination except Fifth ward councilman on the Republican ticket. That ward is traditionally Democratic.

There are five Republican and five Democratic contests, more than in any city primary in several years.

The two-way race for the GOP nomination for mayor highlights the primary campaign. Youthful First ward Councilman Thomas J. Wright filed to oppose Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, who seeks the nomination for a third term.

Former Councilman Charles O. Anglin will be unopposed for the Democratic nomination for mayor.

Ten candidates, four Democrats and six Republicans filed for the three councilmen-at-large posts. Filing shortly before the deadline were Thomas P. Flood of 151 West Fourth street, and Robert E. Sneeringer of 58 East Raleigh avenue, both Republicans.

Charles N. Shultz, veteran Second ward councilman, filed late yesterday for re-election. Three Democrats, Carl B. Bair of 229 Elmwood drive; Glenn T. Hoffman of 509 Heineman boulevard, and Walter G. Reed of 325 West Third street, entered the Democratic fight for Third ward councilman, while Clifford G. Knarr, incumbent, is alone in the Republican column.

In the Fourth ward council race are William D. Blank, 188 Harker street; Harry M. Bowman, incumbent, and Lester D. Hunter, of 500 Daisy street, a former councilman, while Frank A. Schlemmer, is in the Republican column. He lives at 669 McPherson street.

Four candidates entered the Sixth ward Democratic race. They are John F. Amsbaugh, 98½ South Foster street; Richard H. Stevens, 232 South Adams street; E. J. White and Chris Weigler.

With last night's deadline for filing for Mansfield offices, the next filing deadline is March 4. By that time, candidates for city offices in Shelby must file with the Board of Elections. Under Shelby's form of government the filing date is 60 days before the primary.

Candidates for village, township and school board offices need not file until Aug. 10, which is 90 days before the November general election.

Below is a table of candidates entered in the city primary.

No Private Deals, Reds Told

Europe Cheers Decision

Acheson Uses Blunt Words

(Compiled From Wire Services)

The United States served notice to the world late yesterday that it has no intention of making a private deal with Russia to end the cold war. Britain and Western Europe today heartily applauded the announcement which was made by Secretary of State Dean Acheson in an hour-long news conference.

Acheson declared:

"I'm sure it is clear that the government of the United States would not discuss with any nation any matter which was of direct interest to other nations without the participation of representatives of those nations."

Acheson kept the door open on a Big Four parley, however, when he said:

"The United States, together with the other powers occupying western Germany, would, of course, consider carefully any proposal to solve the Berlin problem consistent with their rights, their duties and their obligations as occupying powers."

TRUMAN TO BACK HIM

President Truman was expected to endorse Acheson's views at his 4 p. m. news conference today.

The statements of the secretary of state came as the result of a telegram from Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin to International News Service European manager Kingsbury Smith. In the wire Stalin said he would like to talk to President Truman in Russia, Czechaslovakia, or Poland—all behind the iron curtain.

This morning, a British foreign office spokesman said his government is in "full agreement" with Acheson's rejection of Stalin's suggestion for a conference with Mr. Truman behind the iron curtain.

Other Western European governments relaxed. They feverishly wish for an end to the cold war, but fear they would be left in a difficult position if the two big powers made a private deal.

MAILMAN'S HELPERS—Here are the Mansfield post office's four new trucks which will provide speedier delivery service. The trucks, first new ones the post office has received in several years, arrived Tuesday and yesterday. Acting Postmaster C. L. Ford said the new vehicles don't solve the postal transportation problem here, but they will permit covering more territory and better service to curb box holders. The post office now has a seven-truck fleet.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Morse (R., Ore.) declared in a tumultous Senate Labor committee session today the administration labor bill "hasn't a ghost of a chance" as it is now written. Morse said "a lot of compromises must be made," and added: "Labor is not going to write this ticket. It is going to be written by the counting of noses in the Senate."

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin said today he favors enactment of a law making it a crime for a communist to hold office in a labor union.

Treason Trial Gets Underway

Court Rejects Primate's Appeal

BUDAPEST — (INS) — A Budapest Peoples' court rejected today an appeal by Josef Cardinal Mindszenty that his trial on charges of treason against Hungary's communist-dominated government be halted.

The Primate asked that "for the sake of general peace" the court proceedings against him and six others be suspended. He offered to resign temporarily his position as Roman Catholic Prince Primate of Hungary.

The appeal was made in a letter read to the 200 persons crowded in the courtroom by Court President Olty shortly after the trial opened.

The letter, a strange and sensational development, admitted the Cardinal's guilt of the governments charge that he committed treason, espionage and black-market offenses.

Cardinal Mindszenty, dressed in the black robes of a simple priest, then arose and told the court he had written the letter in his own handwriting and of his own free will.

Olty then adjourned the trial briefly and consulted on the request with his four colleagues on the court. He returned to announce the request had been denied and the trial will continue.

(The British Catholic newspaper 'The Tablet' last week warned that the Primate may have been druged with "Actedron" or some similar drug to elicit such "confessions" from him.

The letter said that the Cardinal had been able to ponder over the entire question of both the Charges against him and the relations between church and state in the past 36 days since his arrest.

It contended that he had to admit he was guilty of the charges against him.

Would Up Licenses By 50%

Sends Bill To Senate

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today asked for a 50 per cent increase in liquor license fees and a bill immediately was introduced in the Ohio Senate to carry out the governor's request.

Senator Robert C. Ragan (D-Lucas) introduced the bill calling for about 50 per cent increases in fees on all types of liquor licenses. He said the measure was approved yesterday by Lausche and Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner during a conference.

Gov. Lausche said an upward adjustment would be fair in view of the report that a licensee who pays $400 for a permit to sell all types of liquor from morning until midnight can sell the permit for at least $10,000.

Lausche said:

"The licensee who operates a bar selling all types of liquor from morning until midnight pays a license fee of $400.

"Thousands of persons in Ohio are frntically trying to obtain licenses of that character. The person who is fortunate enough to obtain one can reportedly sell it without delay for at least $10,000.

WORTH MORE

"If these licenses have that type value for which they are selling, it appears clearly that the license is worth more than $400."

The governor said the same argument substantially applies to all classes of permits issued by the state.

"Increasing the fee," Gov. Lausche added, "will not amount to a new tax. It will merely require the payment to the state of a fee that has some semblance of reasonableness to the valuable right the licensee is given by the state.

"It's my opinion that it is only fair that an adjustment be made upward of at least 50 per cent."

The governor also pointed out that license fees in 1949 are identical with those paid in 1933. Lausche said:

"It is obvious that the dollar in 1949 is worth much less than the dollar in 1933."

The governor indicated a bill similar to Ragan's would be introduced in the House.

The legislation is designed to increase the revenue of cities and counties. All the revenue from the permit fees, which totaled $7,605,636 last year, is returned to the local governments.

City Fails to Block Off Streets

Third Child Coaster Injured In Two Days

The second Mansfield child was hurt in a coasting accident yesterday when he was forced to use a front lawn instead of a blocked-off street for his fun. A third boy was hurt Tuesday in Ontario.

So far this year, no provisions have been made for safe coasting for the city's children. In past years a hilly street in the city was blocked off during the coasting season so that children could coast without fear of motorists.

Injured yeserday was four-year-old Gene Bernat of 241 Sheridan avenue who suffered minor bruises when his sled collided with the rear wheels of a car near his home.

Alfred H. Biddle, 321 Sheridan avenue, driver of the car, told police the child coasted down the front lawn at 231 Sheridan avenue and ran into his car. Police said the accident occurred at 4:45 p. m.

Injured Tuesday in a similar accident was Roger Benson, 9, of 122 Distl avenue. The boy suffered contusions of the left leg when his sled collided with the right rear wheel of a car driven by Clifford M. Walters of 461 Springmill street. The accident occurred at Spruce and Crouse streets.

At Ontario Tuesday, Carl Mandley, 6, suffered eye contusions when his sled crashed into a playground swing in the backyard at his home. Both the Benson and Mandley boys were treated at General hospital and released.

Plant Ups Work Week

100 Hired; Total At 8,100 Peak

Approximately 1,600 Mansfield workers will get considerably fatter pay checks this week. They are employes of the refrigeration department at the local plant of Westinghouse electric department.

The workers who have been on a 40-hour, 5-day week will begin working a 48-hour, six-day week, J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of the firm, announced today.

The 1,600 employes will receive time-and-a-half pay for the additional eight hours which will be worked on Saturday.

During the past week, 100 employes have been added to the refrigeration department, Ashbaugh said, bringing the local plant's total payroll to 8,100 — largest in its 31-year history.

Ashbaugh explained that increased production was made possible by greater availability of steel and hardware items. He said the company felt confident of demand because of a sincere belief that 1949 will be another good year for general business.

8 Killed In Air Crashes

Two aerial mishaps took a toll of eight lives and left seven others injured late yesterday. United Press reported today.

Two were killed and five survived in a midair crash between two B-25 bombers near Barksdale Field La., and six perished in the crash of a St. Lawrence airlines plane at Trinity Bay, Quebec.

Survivors of the bomber collision parachuted to safety, three suffering minor injuries. Aviation Cadet John L. Roberts of Akron was one of those injured slightly.

The Canadian plane crashed while taking off from the Trinity Bay airport after it had climbed to about 200 feet.

Takes $17,000 To Theater, Ends Up Broke

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — (AP) Mrs. Otto Wilson lost her life's savings, estimated between $10,000 and $12,000 in cash and $5,000 in bonds, at a movie last night.

The woman told police she had carried the money in her purse "for a long time" and that she just couldn't believe "there were people in the world who would steal a person's life savings."

Mrs. Wilson said she missed the purse when she got up to leave the theater. She said she and her husband had been saving the money to invest in tourist cabins at Portland, Ore., where her son lives.

BAN PUBLIC MEETINGS

LOGAN — (AP) — A scarlet fever outbreak at Rockbridge in Hocking county has led to a ban on public gatherings, the health department said yesterday. Eighteen cases of the disease including 10 at Rockbridge, were reported in the county.

OK Tag Placed On City Income Tax

DAYTON — (AP) — Dayton last night joined a number of other Ohio cities in adopting a city income tax ordinance as a way out of its financial difficulties.

The ordinance was passed as an emergency measure by a vote of 4 to 0 in the city commission.

The legislation calls for a tax of one half of one per cent on the earned incomes of all individuals working in Dayton, and on the incomes of professional and business firms as well. Collections will begin April 1.

Hotel Employe Becomes Hero

YOUNGSTOWN — (INS) — Troy Groves, 29, a Youngstown college student by day and a bell boy by night, is alive and a hero today, although at one time there was considerable doubt he would be either.

Unaided, Groves extinguished a raging blaze in a second-floor room in the hotel in which he works.

Six fire department units arrived just as Groves walked into the hotel lobby and collapsed. He was revived with a resuscitator.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Herman Peiper, 52, was killed yesterday when a truck in which he was riding crashed into a telephone pole.

Sun Cleans City Walks

Householders Fail To Complete Job

The weatherman is going to clean the sidewalks with warmer weather and rain for the negligent Mansfielders who have failed to use snow shovels.

There is an ordinance on the books, passed in 1909 which requires the owner of property fronting on any sidewalk to clear it of snow and ice by 9 a. m. of the day following the snowfall. Violators are subject to a fine of $5 to $50.

This law has not been enforced for more than 25 years. It would be the duty of the police department to enforce such a rule, but City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfliesch explained that because the law has been dormant for such a long time, it would take a directive from the service-safety director to renew enforcement.

Service - Safety Director Earl E. Garrison said today he does not plan to issue any such directive. He said he did not feel it was the proper thing to do since as he already has resigned and will leave his post on Feb. 15.

Any person who is injured as the result of a fall on an uncleaned sidewalk has recourse at civil law and may sue for damages, city officials pointed out.

The snow and ice that has covered many sidewalks since the Monday snowfall is due to disappear by tomorrow. The weatherman predicted increasing cloudiness with slowly rising temperatures followed by rain or snow and not so cold tonight and rain and milder tomorrow, with the mercury climbing to the mid- 40's.

Lima UEW Awaits Sweeping Cleanup

LIMA — (INS) — Members of Lima's largest labor union, Local 724, CIO United Electrical workers, stepped back today and awaited the "sweeping cleanup" of subversive elements promised by their newly-elected president, Ladd Bollinger.

Bollinger was elected on the strength of his promise that "I am fully in accord with national efforts of the right wing to clean out fascist and socialistic activities."

Youth Dies For Slaying

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A Cleveland youth, who boasted "I'm still smiling" after his conviction for the murder of eight-year-old Sheila Ann Tulley, carried his grin to the Ohio penitentiary electric chair last night.

Harold A. Beach jr., entered the execution chamber at 8:03 p. m. His drawn, haggard features relaxed into a tight grin as he glanced for a second, at his death chair. Then, white and solemn—and offering no resistance—he permitted guards to strap metal plates to his arms and legs.

While guards drew the black leather mask over his face, the 24-year-old Clevelander began praying: "O' my God, I am heartily sorry for having offended you."

At 8:10 p. m. prison physicians Richard H. Brooks and E. S. Anderson pronounced him dead.

Contempt Charges Hinted In Offing

NEW YORK — (INS) — Federal Judge Harold R. Medina considered possible contempt proceedings today in the conspiracy trial of America's 11 top communists.

Beaten West Has Respite

(By United Press)

Embattled westerners dug into the stifling snowbanks with renewed vigor today as threatening storms petered out without casting new woes on residents of the disaster area.

Light snows fell in the Navajo country of Arizona but flights were expected to be resumed by pilots carrying food and medical supplies to the marooned Indians, many of whom were suffering from pneumonia and diphtheria.

High winds whipped up the snow lying on the ground in western Nebraska last night but engineers waging the battle of "operation snowbound" said the stiff breezes died before they could reblock roads.

Temperatures still were at freezing or only slightly above in the winter crop areas of the southland. It was 38 at Dallas, 30 at Vicksburg, 35 at Atlanta, and 33 at Memphis.

January Rain Sets New Record at Lima

LIMA — (INS) — Lima waterworks officials compared notes today and came up with the revelation that last month's rainfall was the greatest in 45 years.

In fact, they said, the 5.20 inches was the greatest ever recorded for the month of January in the Lima area.

Red Conspiracy In the U. S. A.

Spy Hunt Foes Tried Forgery to Halt Probe

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Edited by Bob Considine)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth of a series of twenty-eight articles examining the communist conspiracy in the United States. Mr. Stripling was until recently the spark-plug of the House committee that uncovered widespread communist propaganda and espionage.)

Rep. Frank E. Hook (D-Mich) rose one day in Congress, early in January, 1940, and brandished several photostat letters bearing the letterhead of the Silver Shirt Legion of America and the signature of William Dudley Pelley.

The letters were addressed to Chairman Martin Dies of the House un-American Activities committee. One read, in part, ". . . as you told me in your office, my organization has nothing to worry about, as we are close friends."

I had been tipped off late in 1939 that an involved plot to destroy Dies and the committee was being hatched by powerful influences in Washington.

The question of whether or not the committee had justified its existence was about to be brought before the House of Representatives. The letters, of course, raised a tremendous furor. Dies' protests (from Texas) that he did not know Pelley and had never corresponded with the American fascist were submerged in widespread demands that the committee be dissolved.

Hook read the text of the letters into the Congressional Record but, curiously, refused to let any member of the committee, or me, examine them. Instead, he placed them, he said, in his safe deposit box at the Riggs National Bank.

In the middle of the demands for Dies' head, and a Rules committee fight over whether Hook's remarks should be expunged from the record, I kept thinking of an inveterate Washington "fixer" named David Dubois Mayne, who was a Pelley lieutenant.

MAYNE MISSING

I set out in search of him and the search finally led to Springfield, Va. His small home was locked, but I found the local postmistress and asked her to have Mayne call me if, by chance, she saw him.

That was on a Saturday. Monday morning he appeared at my

Mansfield Quota Filled First Day of Month

Army Recruiters Set Up 'Waiting List'

The Army has an enlistment "waiting list." This was revealed today by the Mansfield Army recruiting center when it turned down six young men who wanted to sign up for the Regular Army.

From now on the recruiting center is on a strict monthly quota for Regular Army enlistments for periods of three years or more, spokesmen said.

The quota for this month was filled Tuesday, the first day of the month. Since the Selective Service board will not call any men for induction for at least two months, men wishing to join the Army will have to await their turns.

Men now desiring to join the Regular Army must place their names on a back-log from which the recruiting center will draw when next month's quota is received.

The only other enlistments open, outside of veterans meeting certain stipulated requirements, is in the Army of the United States. These enlistments are open to men between the ages of 19 and 25 who may enlist for 21 months in the AUS, or 18-year-old men who may join the AUS for one year.

Men who join the Army of the United States, rather than the Regular Army, after serving 21 months or one year on active duty must, upon discharge, join an Army Reserve component.

Monopoly On Indonesian Imports And Exports Comes Under Fire

JUST AFTER the First World war, one of the Ziegfeld comedians, probably Eddie Cantor, sang a song which ran, "I've Got My Captain Working for Me Now." The experience of Matty Fox, of Hollywood and New York, a man of vision and lively, speculative bent, is similar but more so.

Mr. Fox is now, as I have said, the business agent of the projected Indonesian republic of 70 million souls, more or less, sharing a total monopoly on the imports and exports and the financing of this incipient political entity.

His partners in the monopoly are a few stranded Indonesian politicians of the melancholy, bleeding-heart type who haunt the lobbies and ministries of the world weeping for their rights. They blandly call themselves "the government" and they purport to dispose of riches beyond calculation.

Early in the war, young Fox, who is only 37 now, landed in Washington with the War Production board. He was eligible for the draft, however, and finally was inducted at his own request and sent to a center at Long Island City where soldier teams were being taught to make battle movies. During this phase Fox spent his nights at the Sherry-Netherland hotel.

But while other alumni of the school scattered to the Aleutians, Anzio and the Pacific, Mr. Fox, now a warrant officer, was picked by name to go to London for public relations work.

And while thus engaged he wrote a report and recommendations which so pleased General Bedell Smith, of Eisenhower's household, that Smith got him a commission as captain. Mr. Fox says Smith would have made him a major right away but that, as a specialist in public relations, he presumed to advise the brass that this would be a mistake.

Anchored in London and later in Paris, Fox improved each shining hour and established business relations which J. Arthur Rank, the English movie monopolist.

In October, 1947, a New York lawyer telephoned Mr. Fox the sad story of a half-dozen Indonesians stranded in town because the bankers wouldn't pay them $80,000 for a shipment of vanilla beans and kapok. By telephone, Matty convinced the bank that the wistful strangers really did have title to the stuff and talked them out of hock.

★

IT WAS not strange therefore that Dr. Sometro Djodjoadikoes emo, whose card reads "financial and trade representative plenipotentiary," took a shine to him. This name is pronounced in rhythmic ripples—Joe-joe-addy-koseemo.

Doctor Jojo had talked himself hoarse with New York bankers with bleak results.

Now he told Fox that he wanted to tie his country's economy to ours.

They were first in quinine and pepper; second in rubber and tin; rich in petroleum, copra, palm oil and good bauxite and of affectionate disposition when they were gentled. There were almost 70 million of them, including cannibals and headhunters, but not too many.

Fox had some money and knew where to raise more. He has put up $400,000 to bind a contract promising five per cent commission on all the imports and exports of the old Dutch colonial empire for fifteen years.

The waifs in New York, up against it for eating money and room rent, eagerly gave Mr. Fox monopoly, retaining for their "government", should it ever come into power, only the conventional 49 per cent usually awarded to short-enders.

The state department thus far has been only Matty Fox's side and there is all hell to pay.

Leader of Noted First Army Goes Into Retirement; Known By Few

NEW YORK—Another of the fabled figures of the Second World war is gone from the American military scene.

And this one—Gen. Courtney H. Hodges—leaves a question mark behind him as he goes into retirement.

The question in many minds probably is:

"Who is he?"

Well, he is a shy, quiet-voiced, gray-haired, slender man who commanded what some soldiers regard as the most powerful trained striking force in history—the American First Army.

The faces of Generals Eisenhower, MacArthur, Bradley and Patton are known to practically every man and boy in the land. Yet it is doubtful whether one American out of five could pick from a group in uniform the portrait of Gen. Hodges, who rolled a vast army from St. Lo in France to the river Elbe in Germany.

Why? He has had quite a career in 43 years. He flunked out of West Point, enlisted in the army as a private and rose to the rank of full general. The American First Army he commanded had quite a career, too.

It liked the name of being the First Army. And it lived up to its names in many ways.

It was the American First Army that broke the nazi line at St. Lo, in Normandy, after being the first army into France. It was the first army into Paris. It was the first American army into Belgium. It was the American First Army that was first into Germany. It was the first to pierce the Siegfried line. It was the first to capture a major German city — Aachen. It was the American First Army that was first across the Rhine at Remagen. It was the American First Army that was the first allied army to link up with the Russians along the river Elbe.

The American First Army has a long chapter in the nation's story.

But there is a big difference between achievement and recognition. And there is a big difference between the public renown accorded Gen. George Patton and his famous Third Army and that enjoyed by Gen. Hodges and his First Army.

Today Patton, dead, is still better known than Hodges, alive and retired.

It is doubtful that Hodges regrets his name is less in the public memory than high-tempered glamorous "Georgie" Patton's. But the fame he doesn't desire for himself he always has hoped would go to the army he led for the feats it performed.

Perhaps because he did flunk out of the military academy and worked up from private to general, Hodges became more tradition-bound than Patton, who was no scholar at West Point but did eventually graduate.

It is more likely, on the other hand, that the difference stemmed from a fundamental difference in personality. Life was always easy for Patton, the aristocrat, and hard for Hodges.

Hodges always fought his battle quietly, silently. Patton fought noisily — and advertised. Both led tremendous armies to spectacular victories.

If Hodges today has less of a hold on the public heart, it might be because a general who was a private perhaps remained — too private. He never played up himself. But what his army did will live and last.

And that is the way the little gentleman from Georgia would prefer to let the record stand.

Ohio Strike Ban Comes Under Fire

Would Permit Teacher Strikes

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The House Labor committee asked representatives today to repeal the Ferguson act banning strikes by public employes, including school teachers.

It also recommended passage of a measure requiring the state and its subdivisions to "recognize the rights of employes to affiliate with or join labor organizations."

Both measures were voted out of committee last night 9 yes to 5 no. One Republican joined eight Democrats in supporting the bills. One Democrat was absent.

The vote followed a spirited defense of the act bearing his name by Sen. David Ferguson (R-Guernsey).

During his appearance Ferguson was interrupted by committee member John T. Duffy (D-Cuyahoga) who sought to limit his time for testimony.

Duffy was overruled by Chairman Ed Witmer (D-Stark). Then committee member John J. Farley (R-Hamilton) jumped up and said:

"I want to apologize to Senator Ferguson and the committee for the condition of this man," pointing to Duffy.

(According to International News service, Farley's complete quote was: "Mr. Ferguson, I want to apologize on behalf of this committee for the condition of this man (pointing to Duffy) who had the audacity to come to this meeting drunk.")

Duffy previously had asked Ferguson, who stood beside him, not to pound on the committee table to emphasize his remarks.

Ferguson spoke in reply to a score of union officials who appeared at Tuesday night's hearing in support of repeal.

"Government must be constant if you expect to have peace and security," Ferguson said.

He maintained the law should stand as a safeguard to the rights of Ohio taxpayers. Their taxes pay the salaries of public employes and those workers should be answerable to them instead of to labor bosses, Ferguson insisted.

Hero's Rites Set Saturday

Services for Sgt. Roy Lee Bond, 22, killed in action in France on Nov. 9, 1944, will be held at the grave in Mansfield cemetery, Saturday at 3 p.m.

Full military rites will be conducted by the Earl D. McVey Post, American Legion. Pallbearers will be Sgt. Bond's former service buddies.

Born Aug. 1, 1922 at Olive hill, Ky., Sgt. Bond was a resident of Mansfield three years before entering service. He was employed at the Empire Steel corporation and made his home with his brother, Ralph Bond, 219 Seventh avenue.

During the seige in France the Seventh Army headquarters reported Sgt. Bond's unit captured a town and its 200 German defenders with only two rifle shots.

Surviving are his father, Ephie Bond; two brothers, Russell and Ralph; two half-sisters, Misses Alice and Teney Bond; and four half-brothers, Lloyd, Sam, Jimmie and Jack Bond, all of Mansfield.

The body will arrive in Mansfield tonight and be removed to the Wappner funeral home where friends may call.

ASHLAND—This city's hope of getting a municipal court was a step nearer realization today when State Representative McClure, of Ashland county, introduced a bill in the Ohio House for the establishment of a municipal court here.

Teacher Finds Every Youngster Can Draw

Sees Every Child An Artist

By NITA BRANSON

Every child has the ability to draw, according to Mrs. Denzel Schaaf who teaches children's art classes Saturday mornings at Prospect park pavilion.

"But not all children have definite talent," Mrs. Schaaf added. "However, if they are directed in the right way, they have a better chance of developing the talent they have."

It was in the hope of directing latent talent in the right direction that the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild and the City Recreation department decided on the art classes for Mansfield school children each Saturday morning.

Last year it was mostly a "baby sitting" job, Mrs. Schaaf said. But now the children who have no real talent but merely came to the classes for something to do, have dropped out and only pupils with definite talent remain, she said.

In the fall when the classes started again, there were about 40; since the start of the second term, Jan. 1, the number has increased by 10, Mrs. Schaaf said.

The 50 children comprise an interested, attentive group which Mrs. Scaaf considers it a pleasure to teach.

Although this is Mrs. Schaaf's first teaching job, she has studied art for several years. She took three years of art at the University of Syracuse, N. Y., and for her own pleasure and that of her friends and relatives here, does a great deal of portraiture in oil.

URGES MORE BACKING

Mrs. Schaaf, the former Virginia Balyeat, thinks the enthusiasm which her 50 pupils show warrants further cooperation on the part of Mansfield citizens.

"I'd like to see art classes started here such as they have in Cleveland," she said. "But they are impossible unless Mansfield residents get behind the project."

So far the young art students have been doing water colors, chalk and charcoal. In a few weeks, they will start on tempora paints.

"These are the paints we put on quite thick so that they look like oils," she explained. "The oils are a little too expensive for young children to use, but tempora paints get the same effect."

Tomorrow night when the children exhibit their works at the Prospect park pavilion, there will be a number in each of the art mediums they used during the first term, Mrs. Schaaf said.

"One of these days my husband and I are going to start out and travel and I shall paint as I go along," she declared.

Now, however, Mrs. Schaaf has her hands full. Besides keeping house and teaching the art classes, she cares for an invalid mother at her home, 551 Edgewood road.

Assisting her with the children's classes on Saturday mornings are a group of other Mansfield artists, all of whom are busy women but who find time to give several hours each week to teach art technique. They include Mrs. Margaret Twitchell Swank, Mrs. Olive Scott Haber, Mrs. Marlene West, Miss Pearl Danback, Mrs. Alice Twitchell and Miss Carol Hosler.

The show tomorrow night will be one of a series which the Guild is planning to hold for their young pupils during the year, Mrs. Schaaf said. It will open at the park pavilion at 7:30 p. m. and is open to the public as well as parents and Guild members.

334 Children Treated At City Dental Clinic

A total of 334 Mansfield school children were treated at the Mansfield Dental clinic in 1948, a report of the Mansfield Dental Clinic association revealed today. The clinic was held on 60 days last year.

Dentists spent 142 hours working at the clinic. They filled 271 teeth with amalgam, 40 with copper cement, and 42 with porcelain. Dentists made 69 permanent extractions and pulled 91 baby teeth. Eight root extractions were made.

Seven pupils received special treatments, and 18 had their teeth cleaned.

The clinic was held twice a week during the school year.

Examinations were made of 1,693 children during 1948. Of that number 792 were found to be in immediate need of dental care, and 51 needed to have their teeth straightened.

The dental inspections were conducted at West Fifth Street, Bushnell, Carpenter and Prospect schools.

ASHLAND — Hugh Paxton, 72, real estate man here for 12 years and former Ashland county treasurer and deputy auditor, died Wednesday night in Samaritan hospital of a heart attack suffered earlier in the day at his home at 203 Race street. He was born in Hayesville and was a life resident of the county.

A member of First Presbyterian church and charter member of the local Elks lodge, Mr. Paxton is survived by his widow, Mabel; two sons, Roger M. and Richard H., both of Ashland; a brother, Earl of Mansfield and four grandchildren.

SEEING RED

C. P. Robinson, chief engineer at the Ideal Electric company, really saw "red" last night. Robinson has an aversion to red, and members of the Production bowling team of the company decided last night to give him something to complain about. When they appeared at the Colony Bowling alleys to play against the company's office team, of which Robinson is a member, they all wore bright red shirts. Each had taken an old white shirt and had it dyed brilliant red. Robinson, however, had the last laugh. The production team figuratively "lost their shirts" to the office group.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Official business in Columbus kept Mayor Roy W. Vaughn from celebrating his birthday today, but there will be a later observance, Mrs. Vaughn said. Usually, employes at City Hall provide a cake and trimmings for Hizzoner's birthday. But that, too, will have to be delayed. Mayor Vaughn returns home tomorrow morning.

The New-Journal also extends birthday greetings to W. A. Brandenburg, who is observing a birthday today.

CAN'T FOOL HIM

The News-Journal editors doff their hats to Paul L. Damlos of 679 Springmill street! The observant fellow noticed in yesterday's edition that the picture of the groundhog weighing weather conditions on the back page, had an error in it. Damlos said he noticed that the February calendar used in the picture, entitled: "Today's Prophet", began on Wednesday. This year's February calendar begins on Tuesday. Damlos said he noticed the error when he saw the second of February circled on the calendar, indicating "Groundhog Day." What makes it even more puzzling is that the calendar in the picture is marked "February, 1949." The picture was supplied to the News-Journal by Central Press.

Dr. Stoughton To Succeed Dr. Tulloss at Wittenberg

Dr. Clarence C. Stoughton, steward-ship secretary of the United Lutheran church in America and executive director of the Lutheran Laymen's Movement for Stewardship, today accepted the invitation of Wittenberg college's board of directors to become the eighth president of the institution.

Dr. Stoughton will succeed Dr. Rees Edgar Tulloss who will retire Aug. 31 after 29 years of service. Under Dr. Tulloss, Wittenberg, has become the largest of the 13 colleges supported by the United Lutheran church. Dr. Tulloss is a former pastor of the First English Lutheran church in Mansfield.

Now 53, Dr. Stoughton will become the first lay president in Wittenberg's 104 years. He will take over the presidency on Sept. 1.

A national reputation as a lay leader in the Lutheran church has been established by Dr. Stoughton. He was the first lay president of Wagner college from 1935 to 1945 and in 1946 was the first layman selected by the United Lutheran church to deliver the Knubel-Miller Foundation lectures in key cities of the nation.

In 1944 he was the first layman to preside over the convention of the United Lutheran Synod of New York in its 150-year history. In his present dual position for the ULCA and the Lutheran Laymen's Movement, he has been traveling from 40,000 to 45,000 miles a year in the interests of stewardship and the church.

After serving overseas in World War I as a corporal with the 21st Aerial Photography section, Dr. Stoughton taught one semester at Webster, N. Y. high school after which he joined the Wagner college staff.

Last summer, Dr. Stoughton was one of four persons selected to represent the 1,839,434 members of the United Lutheran church at the first meeting of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, Holland. He is one of 14 members of the United Lutheran church's commission to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Dr. Stoughton is the author of two books, "Set Apart for the Gospel," a layman's picture of what the pastorate ought to be; and "Whatever You Do," a volume on stewardship and vocations.

Passengers, Boat Saved

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla.—(U.P.)—A crippled 38-foot cabin cruiser was towed into Anclote key early yesterday with all persons aboard reported in good condition, climaxing a night-long search spurred by steady SOS signals picked up by installations from Miami to New Orleans.

James L. Pippin, lighthouse keeper at the Key, which lies three miles off shore here, said the boat, "Mary III," was "full of folks," but that all were safe.

He reported that the boat's motor was out of order and rescue operations were carried on in "rough" seas.

Science, Will Power Rebuild Torn Bodies

(Editor's Note: Starlin Whitaker was a newspaperman before the war, during which he served as a tank gunner and a combat correspondent of the Seventh Armored division. Whitaker himself was a patient at Baker Veterans hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., and writes of this new medical practice from first-hand experience.)

By STARLIN WHITAKER

MARTINSBURG, W. Va.—(AP)—More than 50 GI patients at Baker Veterans hospital have performed a medical miracle in rebuilding their own bodies.

All were tuberculosis patients. All had one of the most deforming surgical operations, thoracoplasty, that removes ribs so that the chest caves in to flatten one lung.

This operation has been a life-saver. But it also has made slab-sided chests, bent spines, twisted shoulders, and sometimes so much crippling that men could not work.

The Baker veterans have come through with straight bodies, good shoulders and chests well-rounded. They have speeded up the recovery by months.

The boys have done this by exercise that starts 24 hours after the surgeon's work is done. This exercise is one more feather in the cap of the great physical therapy movement of World War II, which has helped the mairned to recover better than in any previous war in the world's history.

Formerly, after the chest operation the main treatment was complete rest. In that time the cut muscles set themselves to the job of twisting the upper body out of shape.

The new exercises really begin before operation. For they hurt, and the boys are shown what they are going to do and told just how much pain to expect. They are told to disregard the pain, especially in shoulder and chest.

They are shown how to move their arms, and how to keep heads in straight line with their backs while lying flat in bed. They also are shown how to draw up their knees occasionally, and how to lie on one side, so that the infection of the closing lung will not seep into the good lung.

Even arranging their own pillows is important. These things the soldier begins 24 hours after he comes out of the anesthetic. He does these under directions twice a day.

On the third day a nurse helps the boys to sit up.

On the fourth day these boys practice standing up. Every day thereafter they practice standing each time a little longer.

BEGIN EXERCISING

After two months, they begin exercising with three-pound weights. Massages and supervision are part of the course.

From three-pound the patients graduate to five-pound weights.

Within three months, these patients get passes to leave the hospital for two to three days at a time.

It sometimes has taken years to get a man in shape to go back to work after a thoracoplasy. Many of the Baker vets have returned to their jobs within a year.

Formerly there were few of these operations at Baker, because the men feared them. Now thoracoplasty is sought by men who never willingly would have permitted it.

This muscle training method was begun here only a little more than a year ago. Dr. T. S. Jennings, chief of tubercular services, says:

"This therapy has shortened the hospitalization of these patients, and enabled them to return to their positions in a much shorter period than formerly."

Flxible to Make Own Ambulance Equipment

LOUDONVILLE.— The Flxible company will manufacture its own medicine cabinets and lounge chairs for ambulances in the future, Raymond Casner reports. They will be made at the special products division plant in Millersburg with the chairs being upholstered at the main plant here.

Glen Crow, vice-president and sales manager, said last month's orders exceeded expectations and the future outlook is brighter.

SERVICES SUSPENDED

McZENA — Due to the illness of Rev. C. F. Betz, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, services there are discontinued for the present. The Ladies Aid and Missionary Society will meet Thursday evening in the Karl Shearer home, however.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Germany Holds Key To Peace

Showdown Looms For USSR, West

With Stalin's interview it is now certain that matters are coming to a head and that a diplomatic showdown in Europe during the next few months is in the making. The issues are grave and the stakes are high. No one who realizes them will wish to see the matter dealt with hurriedly in a press conference or in an off-the-record briefing.

Thus it would be a blunder of the first magnitude—one which would weaken seriously our whole position, to slam the door in Stalin's face. For then we would present ourselves to the world as the great power which had refused to explore all the possibilities of peace.

It would be as great a blunder to act as if the time had come for Mr. Truman to start packing his bags for a meeting with Stalin. For that would convince our allies, and the Russians as well, that we had not understood how thorny are the problems which have to be worked out before even a modus vivendi can be reached.

SHOWDOWN COMING

The showdown, which is coming, will turn upon whether the Marshall plan, the North Atlantic Security pact, and the Council of Europe are to be treated as a coalition for war or as the framework for a European settlement. The issue is plainest in the Security pact.

The original members of the North Atlantic Security pact are Britain, France, the Benelux countries in Western Europe, Canada and the United States in North America. Limited to these countries, the pact could not be challenged by the Soviet Union and its allies. They are themselves bound together by a network of sixteen treaties.

The crucial fact about this Soviet network of bilateral treaties and the North Atlantic Multilateral treaty is that the two systems do not meet.

The two systems can be regarded as defensive as long as neither expands into this neutral borderland which separates them. We should certainly regard a Russian proposal for a military alliance with any country in the borderland as deeply disturbing.

The case of Italy is probably the least serious. For Italy is in contact with the Soviet orbit only on the Yugoslav frontier, and as long as Titoism is able to survive, no serious military consequences are likely to follow from Italy's inclusion in the Atlantic system.

But the crucial case is Germany. Here, it must be said, our attitude is ambiguous and contradictory. The official position, reiterated in the security board provision of the recent Ruhr agreement, is that we propose to keep Germany disarmed and demilitarized.

But it would be disingenuous to pretend that there is not a powerful current of opinion in this country, in Great Britain, in Germany, and even in France that, without the recreation of a German army and German war industry under German command, Germand manpower and the German industrial potential may eventually be integrated with the North Atlantic system.

As long as Germany is considered a military makeweight which could turn the balance of power decisively, the Germans —not the Russians and not the Americans, French or British —will in the end decide whether there is to be war or peace.

Governor Dewey Wants Tax Boost

ALBANY, N. Y. — (AP) — Governor Dewey proposed Tuesday to boost the state tax on parimutuel betting at harness racing tracks from the present five to six per cent.

He further suggested in his annual budget message to the legislature that an additional 1 per cent be levied on daily betting above $550,000.

Dewey estimated the state would realize an additional revenue of $1,200,000 from the increases.

Bill Drafted to Slice Jobless Pay for Vacationing Ohioans

Cite Abuses Of Benefits By Workers

$20,000,000 Paid Out During 1948

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohioans won't finance Florida vacations with jobless benefit checks if Rep. Harold F. Stotzer (R-Fulton) can help it.

He drafted a bill today for House action while representatives studied another proposal to increase and liberalize unemployment compensation.

Stotzer in a prepared statement called attention to reports of jobless benefit payments to Ohio workers in Florida and California.

His proposal says that "unemployed workers shall not be paid benefits unless they make themselves available for work in the locality in which their qualifying work was performed, or one where their type of work is available."

Stotzer's statement said in part:

"The existing abuses in unemployment compensation are closely related to a high level of benefits, which makes it attractive to loaf, and inadequate disqualifications.

"These two factors are responsible more than anything else for the amazing payment of $20,000,000 in benefits in 1948, a year of high employment.

"Unemployment insurance was intended to provide benefits for those who are unemployed through no fault of their own, and who are genuinely seeking new employment."

Three Lucas county Democrats yesterday offered a plan to boost jobless benefits to $32.50 for a full year from $21 for 22 weeks. They are Reps Michael J. Dumas, Frank W. King and Morton Feipp.

They also would provide an additional $3 weekly for each dependent of a jobless pay beneficiary and advance minimum payments to $16.50 a week from $5 a week.

The plan would permit benefit payments during strikes and eliminate the present two-week waiting period in ordinary layoffs. A five-week waiting period would be required for employes justly discharged.

Bureau of unemployment compensation officials said their fund totaled about $553,000,000 on Jan 1. They estimated it would provide jobless benefits about a year during a severe industrial depression on the present payment basis.

The cornerstone of the nation's capitol was laid in Washington in 1793, but the government did not move into the city until 1800.

Probe Foes Use Forgery In Battle

Seek To Halt Investigators

office in the old House Office building.

I took a long chance and, pointing at him severely, shouted, "Mayne, you wrote those letters, didn't you?"

"Yes," he said, mildly.

"Sit down," I invited. Then I called in the members of the committee, put Mayne under oath and he told his story, portions of which were subsequently denied by the persons he mentioned.

He told us that Gardner Jackson, formerly (and subsequently) a $5,600-a-year, Amherst-graduated government economist, who was among the more articulate New Deal critics of the committee, had purchased the letters from him. The price was $105 and the promise of a job through Jerome Frank, then chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission.

Mayne testified that Jackson's agent, one Harold Weisberg, at their first meeting, had asked him if he knew of any connection between Dies and Pelley. When Mayne answered that he knew of none, Weisberg said, "Well, keep looking. I'm sure you'll find something."

Mayne confessed that subsequently he wrote the letters on plain paper, forged Pelley's signature, and attached a Silver Shirt Legion letterhead by means of Scotch tape. He then had the material photostated and turned it over to Jackson, who apparently accepted it as authentic.

Hook insisted that he had been framed. Mayne was convicted of forgery, probably the lowest case of forgery in the Justice department's annals. And Congress gave the committee another lease on life.

Not much later in 1940, President Roosevelt called Dies to the White House from his home in Texas and, for one perhaps thoughtless moment, the Texan believed he had been returned to the good graces of the chief executive.

SPY HUNTER AT WORK—Robert E. Stripling delves into his take-home papers for the House un-American activities committee with which he served for ten years. His job as chief investigator gave Stripling a sharp insight into the disloyal persons and groups he discusses in his story now appearing in the News-Journal.

I accompanied him to the White House. Dies honestly expected to be ushered into the President's study immediately, but he was kept waiting for 45 minutes. And when the door of the study opened, the man who emerged was Gardner Jackson.

PERILED SECURITY

The president told Dies that Attorney General Robert Jackson was strenuously accusing the committee of premature exposures that imperiled national security. The truth of the matter was that the committee was taking an aggressive lead in matters in which the Justice department was plainly negligent.

Quietly, and I believe quite efficiently, we continued our long inquiry into Japanese spying along the Pacific coast and in Hawaii. By the middle of June, 1941, our case was complete. Dies, then in Jasper, Tex., informed the Justice department that he planned to begin hearings on the Japanese case on July 1. He outlined what we had discovered.

The Justice department's reply came a few days before the schedule opening of our hearings. It was signed by Acting Attorney General Matthew McGuire and informed Dies that the department, after discussing the question with the president and Secretary Hull, could not give us permission to hold such hearings.

For the remainder of my life I will always believe that our disclosures would have aroused enough alarm among the people to have caused the Japanese to abandon their planned attack on Pearl Harbor. If Pearl Harbor could not have been prevented, then I believe our disclosures would have prepared America more adequately for the difficult days ahead.

Urges Steps To Defeat Smog Peril

Ohioan Cites Need For Legislation

CINCINNATI—(UP)—Properly drawn anti-pollution ordinances and "an awakened public consciousness" are two main factors in preventing another disaster such as occurred at Donora, Pa., last October, an expert on air pollution declared today.

In his final report on the fatal Donora smog that killed 20 persons and hundreds of animals, Dr. Clarence A. Mills called for effective legislative steps to prevent such disasters.

Dr. Mills is head of the department of experimental medicine in the University of Cincinnati college of medicine.

"Years of experience in other cities have shown the futility of attempting to control air pollution without adequate legislation," Dr. Mills said. "More recent years have shown also the striking benefits which come from a property drawn anti-pollution ordinance backed up by an awakened public consciousness."

Dr. Mills said that he found during a house-to-house canvass of all but about 2500 of the 13,500 persons living in the Donora-Webster area that up to 77 per cent of persons over 50 years of age and up to 52 per cent of those under 50 were affected by the poison smog.

The results of the survey, Dr. Mills said, strengthened his belief that the community barely escaped a major catastrophe.

"Some 4,458 of the 10,845 questioned reported smog effects on the fatal day," he added. "These were not just idle reports of imaginary damage, for 805 asked for and received medical attention while 338 sought in vain for such help.

"Thirty-four were hospitalized and 48 hurried away from the city to escape further damage.

"Hardest hit of all were the people of Webster, living on the eastern slopes of the valley just across the river from the zinc plant which has become the center of attention since the disaster."

Dr. Mills said he believed an independent survey, now being organized, of smog effects in the larger area around Donora and Webster will show even more serious damage in the outlying districts than his Donora canvass brought to light. Results of this survey will be turned over to Dr. Mills for study.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE SIX MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1949

Those Gallup and Roper polls should still have value in influencing people to bet the other way.

Most recent proposal is for the government to finance a population shift—which might further overcrowd Florida during the winter season.

With Edison's birthday, Lincoln's birthday and Valentine day coming along soon, February offers a lot of special occasions for such a short month.

'Greater Mansfield Days' Coming Up

MANSFIELD STORES are exceptionally well-prepared for the "Greater Mansfield Days" scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday, as merchandise long listed as "scarce" is again available and many such items will be found among the special offerings by Mansfield merchants this week-end.

Careful reading of the advertising messages in this issue of The News-Journal will be found well worthwhile, as they not only reflect this city's progress in retail merchandising but also point the way to convenient shopping, whatever your needs may be.

Steady expansion in Mansfield's trading area has been noticeable for a number of years, as well as increasing realization on the part of Mansfield residents that stocks and service in local stores equal or surpass those of much larger cities.

"Greater Mansfield Days" are traditional with Mansfield's progressive merchants, under sponsorship of the Retail Merchants association, with yellow and black window posters designating the participating stores. You'll find it interesting, enjoyable and beneficial to shop and buy in Mansfield stores tomorrow and Saturday.

When Mayors and Sheriffs Fail To Act

FOLLOWING a request from Governor Lausche, a bill has been introduced in the state legislature designed to give the governor authority to remove sheriffs who fail to enforce laws against commercialized gambling—as he is already authorized to remove mayors of cities in which illegal gambling is permitted—as in Mansfield.

As it is common practice of some gambling racketeers to operate in rural areas there is no appearance of good reason why the governor's power to remove delinquent officials should not extend to counties as well as cities.

While Governor Lausche is probably being kept quite busy during his early weeks in office, and cannot be expected to reach all cases of official nonfeasance at one time, the situation in Mansfield is respectfully submitted as an example of how law enforcement is given the runaround by those who determine administration policies.

Just a year ago, it will be remembered, a stop order was issued by Chief of Police Jesse J. Schwab to operators of various forms of illegal gambling, including a horse bookie place, and it was announced that this was a "permanent" ban, with sanction by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

Enforcement of laws against commercialized gambling continued through two months—February and March of last year—then the lid started lifting and finally the bookie was again in operation, without police interference.

No explanation was given by either Police Chief Schwab or Mayor Vaughn and a natural supposition has been that pressure by gambling interests was sufficiently strong to cause responsible officials to reverse their position and permit return of unquestionably illegal gambling—which has continued since last April 1.

As Mansfield has frequently gained recognition as "a typical American city" it might not be out of reason to suggest that Governor Lausche also regard this as "a typical city" in which to inform the mayor as to his duties as chief executive, which include responsibility for law enforcement, without authority to decide which laws should be enforced and which ignored.

Methods of Communists Revealed

AS THE SERIES progresses interest grows in the revelations of Robert E. Stripling, former chief investigator for the House un-American activities committee. Mr. Stripling is not afraid to name names in high places, as yesterday's article indicated and as ensuing installments will prove.

Editorial mention is made of the revelations for two reasons. First, to call attention to the careful way in which Mr. Stripling has built up and documented his story out of 10 years' experience ferreting out communists, fascists, and their ilk in the U. S. Second, the information contained in the series is important to every American.

Communism is not the wild-eyed haranguing of malcontents in public squares. It is the insidious, sneaking, lying efforts of carefully trained party workers and their so-called "liberal" dupes who prey on the misfortunes of minorities (real and imagined) and who seep their poison into the highest echelons of government.

The communist technique can be seen at work among certain groups in Mansfield. There is no better way to learn to recognize it than to read carefully Mr. Stripling's experiences as they are appearing daily in The News-Journal.

A Toronto paper is credited with the headline: "Seeds of divorce sowed in marriage"—but at least an occasional golden wedding anniversary gives a more cheerful outlook.

Now it's "castor oil breath" that lipstick users are being warned against—which may mark the start of another smear campaign.

Clyde Moore quips: "The man who said silence is golden spoke his opinion before the days of $3,000,000 radio comedians."

New York heralds the return of the 5-cent cigar—but thus far has not proclaimed it as "good."

What Some Other People Are Saying

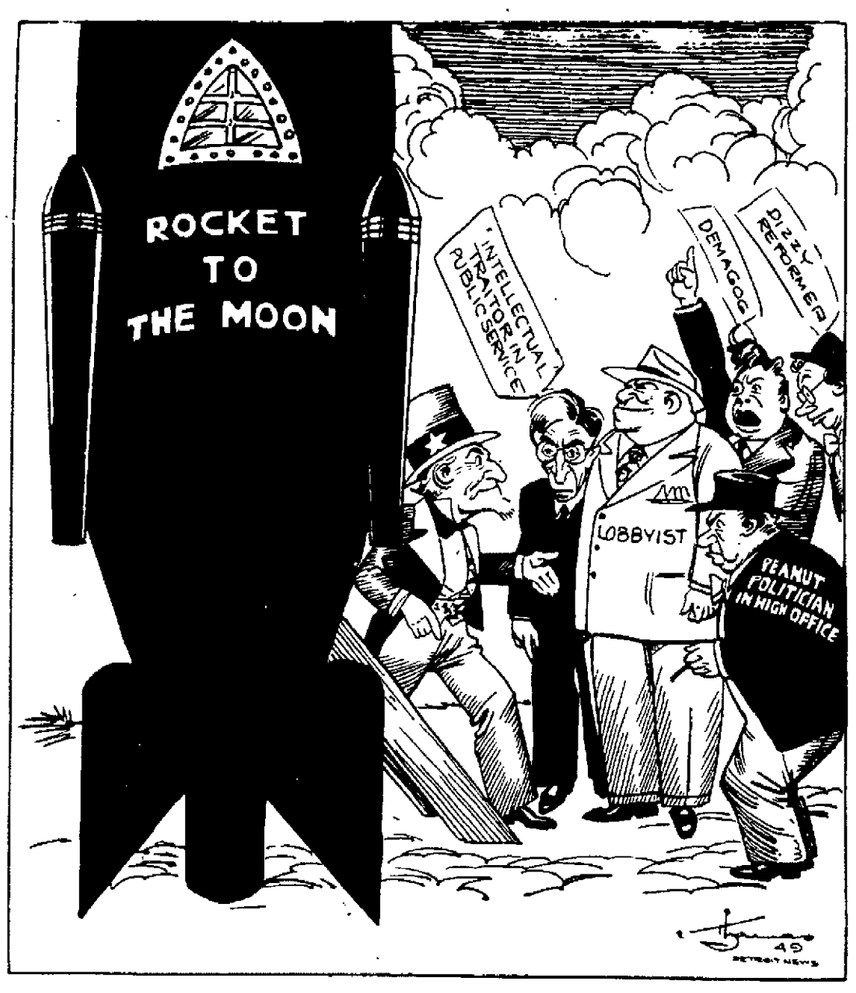
MAURICE TOBIN, secretary of labor: "The Taft-Hartley law was born out of exasperation and emotional reactions during an unsettled period which followed the end of World War II."

* * *

HERBERT HOOVER, former president: "Taxation has reached a saturation point; President Truman should be given sweeping powers to reorganize the government to cut costs."

* * *

EVE CURIE, Paris authoress and newspaper publisher: "It is obvious that what Stalin wants most in the world is to weaken in advance the provisions of the Atlantic Pact. . . . He is trying to soften America with peace moves."



Fine Idea—If the Right Passengers Can Be Picked.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

U. S. Being Drained By Contributions

WHAT have we given to foreign countries since the war and what have we received in return? In round figures we exported, in 1946, 1947 and 1848, about $52,000,000,000 in goods and services, and we have received $26,000,000,000 in return.

Thus, the amount of our product that we have seen flow out without return has been $26,000,000,000. This means about 12 per cent of our national product.

It means also that nearly 3,000,000 Americans have been working to produce those exports, for which we shall probably get no return either in goods or money.

Such pouring out to foreign nations has never been seen before. After the First World War, the Germans were told to work off and give out about $12,000,000,000 over a period of 20 years. Of course they failed to deliver.

Before the First World War, the British worked a great deal for export, but they were paid handsomely for what they did. They received in return 20 per cent of their imports free.

Foreign trade in the past has involved such a small part of our economy that we scarcely understand the implications of this new situation.

We only vaguely appreciate what our giving has meant to us. But it has been a severe drain on our resources. To make it possible, we have been compelled deliberately to raise our cost of living.

This means, of course, that we have lowered our standard of living. We have had to deprive our coal and iron consuming industries to make shipments abroad. A year ago, we cut short the grain supply needed to maintain our domestic animals.

* * *

Economically Unsound.

WHEN we studied economics we were always correctly taught that a continuing excess of exports over imports was unsound. British prewar practice was always against an excess, except, of course, when a substantial profit could be gained for investment in foreign revenue-producing properties.

Our present course is justified by our statesmen on the ground that we are ploughing in money to produce good will. That is often good business practice, but only when future profitable markets are assured. Such future markets are highly speculative.

For good will is a perishable product and some of our export gifts have gone down a bottomless pit.

Whatever went to China is lost. What went beyond the Iron Curtain is certainly not used for our advantage. And from Germany we receive in return only bitter complaints.

In other European countries the sentiment is developing that we are making these huge loans and gifts because we must do so in order to keep our people employed. Thus, they say, we must get rid of our surplus in order to prevent depression and unrest at home. And thus we should be grateful to Germans, Austrians and Japanese because they relieve us of our surplus goods.

We have, however, kept communism down in France and Italy. We are on the way to a Western European union, whatever that may be worth. And we have advertised our industrial know-how sufficiently to encourage other countries to improve their own production.

But as those countries recover, we shall have to consider ways and means to receive large imports from them. For an excess of exports must ultimately be paid in imports, or we shall be a poorer and perhaps a sadder nation.

Viewing the National Scene

GOP Stages 'Snowbound'

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — The performance of "Snowbound" that the Republican national committee staged at Omaha last week recalled one of those grim and gloomy plays, after the manner of Eugene O'Neill, where members of an ingrown family, come upon hard times and hemmed in by the weather, sit about and pick each other to pieces with fiendish joy.

The tobacco-chewing elders, comfortably lolling in the chimney corner within convenient range of the fire, whine about the new generation with its fancy ways and notions, and particularly about the young fellow who went off to the big city and made good and no longer pays enough attention to the home folks who might, of course, be named Tom Dewey.

The Republican committee session had just about as much relation as that to the real problem of the Republican party, entertaining as the family feuding in a snowbound hotel was to the Democrats who still are sitting in the seats of power and not yet over their surprise at being there.

The Omaha jawing bee merely demonstrated an already familiar fact, which is that members of any group or organization that have suffered a defeat, including politicians, will sit around afterward and bicker, blaming each other, or all ganging together on a scapegoat such as Tom Dewey offered.

It also demonstrated another familiar fact in politics, which is that aspirants for high place, including a presidential nomination, and their lieutenants always are jockeying for position, in and out of season.

The track is clear now for the next race. None could afford to miss this first opportunity to try for a favorable position which, in this instance, was control of the national committee.

That really isn't much of a prize, but it is all that is available this early in the game. Nor was even that finally decided at Omaha.

* * *

Glimmer of Hope.

THE national committee of no party has ever nominated anybody for president and has ever elected anybody president. Nor has it ever made party policy.

For the last eight years, until now, the Republican committee was pretty well under the thumb of Senator Taft of Ohio. But Senator Taft failed to win the nomination either in 1940 or 1948. It went to outsiders because they had greater popular appeal—Wendell L. Willkie in 1940 and Tom Dewey in 1948.

Senator Taft was not a candidate for the nomination in 1944, but supported his fellow Ohioan, John W. Bricker, then governor, now senator. Governor Dewey beat him.

Nor does the skimpy and conditioned victory that the Dewey forces won at Omaha in retention of Rep. Hugh Scott (Pa.) as chairman have much personal future significance for the New York governor. However his fortunes turn out, it will not be the national committee that will determine either the nominee or what happens in the election.

The real problem of the Republican party is not who, if anybody, controls the national committee. The real problem is to make the party stand for something in which a majority of the voters can have confidence, and that goes to a set of principles or policy.

That is not made by the national committee. That is made right here in Congress, day by day. What the Republican party does in Congress is what it means to the people, in the end.

While the snow fight was going on at Omaha, some things were happening here in Congress where the record is to be made that should cheer those who were discouraged by the Omaha spectacle.

At a party conference Senate Republicans decided to get together in the near future to try to formulate a set of principles to follow in legislation.

At the other side of the Capitol a similar conference of House Republicans voted to abolish their present steering committee and create a larger policy committee to which new and progressive members will be admitted.

And the national committee, itself, arranged to hold a general party conference next September to adopt a set of principles.

So the whole party is not snowbound.

Dave Boone Says:

STALIN says he has no objection to meeting President Truman and considering a joint peace pledge. That's something like Little Red Riding Hood getting a carefully worded statement from the big bad wolf that he isn't against a chat with her and grandma.

* * *

To the question if he would be prepared to consider the issue of a joint declaration of peaceful intentions, Joe replied, "the soviet government would be prepared.

* * *

No doubt about that. Moscow is not only prepared with pledges in all sizes and shapes but has a big stock on tap for all occasions.

* * *

On the direct question if he was willing to confer with the President, Stalin tartly replied: "I have already stated I have no objections," that sounds right out of the old deep-freeze unit.

* * *

If you ask a difficult neighbor to sit down for a chat with you and he merely said he had no objections you wouldn't think he was going all-out as a pal and buddy. Still, maybe Joe is thawing out slowly. Let's hope so. Every drop in temperature helps.

New York Welcomes French Merci Train

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—As New York's parade welcoming the French Merci Train moves up Broadway today, not many people will know that seven city departments worked long in advance to plan it . . . Chief problem was figuring out a safe route for the French boxcar over New York's undermined streets. Many New York avenues are shell-thin because of the intricate subway system underneath, and the French World War I boxcar mounted on an army trailer weighs 20 tons. Even New York's city hall is half over a subway, so police had to mark off areas strong enough to support the French car . . . New York Central RR engineers also had to determine whether the car could travel over Park Avenue, under which run New York Central tracks.

Suave Grover Whalen, chairman of New York's Gratitude Train Committee, got so excited over planning the train's arrival that he even showed up on time for meetings. In New York that's considered revolutionary . . . All sorts of people, inspired by the French gesture of friendship, offered their help and cooperation.

Truman On Injunctions.

ONLY the palace guard know it, but the administration's new labor bill was held up at the last minute by President Truman himself so that three major changes could be made.

One was a strong injunction clause to enable the government to crack down on John L. Lewis or any other labor leader who staged a strike endangering the national health and welfare.

This was stricken out at the last minute. Also, the cooling-off period for a threatened strike was raised from 20 to 30 days.

Here's the inside story of how the changes came about:

* * *

Backstage Conference.

ONE HOUR before Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin was scheduled to appear before the Senate labor committee on Friday morning, Charles Murphy, the White House legislative representative, reported to Truman that there was still disagreement on the strike injunction clause.

Truman immediately instructed Secretary Tobin to cancel his appearance before the Senate committee and to meet at the White House at 3 p. m. Friday. At the ensuing conference were: the President himself, Tobin, Murphy, Attorney General Tom Clark, Assistant John Steelman and Clark Clifford.

Ensued a pitched battle over blue-pencilling the injunction ban on strikes endangering public health and welfare.

Clifford and justice department lawyers — except for Attorney General Clark—contended the injunction clause should be left in the bill. Steelman and Tobin wanted it out, argued that it was a gratuitous prejudgment of labor.

"We've got to assume that labor has grown up and will carry its responsibilities," asserted Steelman.

Attorney General Clark agreed with him, said labor should be given a chance to cooperate voluntarily with the government in preventing crippling strikes with no legal club over its head.

As the argument continued, the President, who originally favored injunctions, finally agreed that it might arouse too much labor resentment, do more harm than good.

Clark Clifford disagreed. "Some of these labor leaders have a complex about injunctions," he declared. "But the great majority of labor won't be affected by this provision. And we've got to protect the government and the people against production shutdowns in these very critical times."

Finally Truman settled it.

"If you knew the history of injunctions and the hardships they caused labor as I do," he said, in effect, "you would take a different slant on the subject. I realize as much as anybody that it is necessary to use the injunction at times—and I have used it on several occasions myself in serious emergencies—but I don't blame labor leaders for protesting against the practice.

"In the old days," continued the President, in effect, "before labors' rights were recognized by the New Deal, the injunction was used too often as a weapon of discrimination against labor, instead of for the public good."

Washington Calling

The 'Ill' In Illinois

By MARQUIS CHILDS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—With the inauguration here the other day of Adlai Stevenson as governor, a current of hope went out across the prairies and through the towns and cities of this state. It is the hope for good and honest government of a people who have endured much in recent years.

But no one knows better than the keen-minded new governor how difficult is the job he has undertaken. And no governor, it might be added, has taken office here in Springfield with a greater determination to clean house and end the graft, corruption and inefficiency that have afflicted the state.

Governor Stevenson's majority of 575,000 was the greatest ever given any candidate in Illinois' history. That is one reason national attention centered on him the day after election.

Then, too, the public always likes the drama of a David standing up to a Goliath. That is clearly Governor Stevenson's role in the face of deeply entrenched interests, political and private, that prefer to see things as they are.

The new governor's inaugural address was a remarkable document. It was temperate, moderate, free of any noisy partisanship. But it went to the heart of what is wrong with the hodgepodge of state and local government, criss-crossing, duplicating, leaving every kind of rat hole for the crooked and the inefficient and those who benefit from their crookedness.

That is the state constitution, which is a strait jacket making reform and change almost impossible. As was said recently, the only way in which the constitution squares with the facts of modern life is in its definition of the state boundaries.

Governor Stevenson proposes a constitutional convention to consider a thorough revision of this 78-year-old document, which has not been amended in nearly 50 years. Such a convention presumably would end the conflicts of authority and make modern, efficient government possible.

* * *

People Must Approve.

BUT because of the technicalities specified in connection with the popular vote necessary to approve such a convention, it will be difficult to bring it about. The voters of Illinois proved that they could get angry and indignant enough to throw out a cynical and corrupt administration with such an outpouring of votes as had never been seen.

Now they must show sufficient interest to give the new governor power to make essential changes. Other states in recent years have successfully revised horse-and-buggy charters.

In his inaugural address Governor Stevenson urged consideration of a state Fair Employment Practices law to end "economic discrimination upon racial or religious ground."

As he said, the whole world is watching us to see whether we mean the fine words that we speak about democracy and equality of opportunity.

Later at a press conference Stevenson said he actively will back an FEPC bill in the assembly. New York state already has such a law, which was passed during Governor Dewey's first term. So does New Jersey. A drive is on in Pennsylvania to bring adoption there on a fair employment practices statute.

In taking the initiative, the states are showing one of the great advantages of the federal system of government. The late Justice Brandeis in one of his most famous opinions expressed it as follows:

"It is one of the happy incidents of the federal system that a single courageous state may, if its citizens choose, serve as a laboratory to try novel social and economic experiments without risk to the rest of the country."

The laboratory test here is whether Governor Stevenson can restore something like decent and reasonably economical government.

RACCOON COATS, ukeleles and Rudy Vallee are back, all looking as good as new.

Soon freshmen will be swallowing gold fish again, a swimmer will attempt the English Channel, Bill Green will announce a new AFL-CIO peace plan and we can revel in prewar normalcy.

Currently the AFL executive board is in Miami fighting sunburn and the battles of the oppressed.

In their seersuckers and saddle shoes they can hardly be distinguished from capitalists except by their expense accounts.

But the word is they will be back fighting for justice for the honest working man as soon as the North warms up a little.

And it is not to be thought that the boys are loafing in Miami . . . Mr. Truman's labor bill was thoroughly examined on the beach and found to contain a little sand.

Assignment: America

One Joe To Another

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — In this modest profession to which I am attached there is a saying that newspapermen meet so many interesting persons—mainly other newspapermen.

As a hearty subscriber to this theory, I present as my chief argument a long-time confrere, Joseph Kingsbury Smith, European general manager of International News Service.

Government foreign offices at home and abroad are working overtime and many people the world around are just a little bit more hopeful of peace because our Joe, in Paris, wrote four questions to another Joe, last name Stalin, on the possibilities of peace.

Now when Hollywood gets around to filming its next newspaper epic on the life and times of a foreign correspondent, a theme with which it seems to have a perpetual preoccupation, I suggest they hire our Joe.

Nor am I suggesting that they hire Joe to write the story. He's to play the part of the hero. For Kingsbury Smith, as his by-line reads, is twice as handsome as any Hollywood hero. He looks like a cross between a man of distinction and a polished career man in the British diplomatic service. His manners are lustrous and his speaking voice nothing short of beautiful.

His friends sometimes think that Joe is the last of that fabulous race once known as Virginia Gentlemen. (He was born in Virginia's Fairfax county).

Of course, Hollywood, if it had a thousand years to do so, could never dream up the ingenius way in which Joe got his letter from Paris to Moscow. The Hollywood version would require at least one murder, tampering with the diplomatic mail pouch, and a blonde smuggled aboard the Moscow-bound plane with the questions tattooed around her ankles in invisible ink.

* * *

As Simple as That.

STRANGE as it may seem, Joe just wrote the letter, addressed the envelope to his excellency, Marshal Stalin, the Kremlin, Moscow, U. S. S. R. As INS does not allow expense money for murder or blondes, Joe had to do it the hard way.

The answers to Joe's four searching questions came through in a manner not quite so matter of fact. Early Sunday morning, Natalia Rene, INS staff correspondent in Moscow, was notified at the Hotel Metropole by phone to be at the main gate of the Kremlin at 12:45 p. m. sharp. No reasons given.

Marshal Stalin's answers were handed to her at the appointed hour and she was in possession of one of the great news stories of the year.

Hollywood ought to be able to work Miss Rene into the story, too. She is a great ballet enthusiast for whom the New York office of INS is always buying the most esoteric and costly books on ballet.

As for Joe, he has lived in Paris many years with his extremely pretty American wife, Eileen, and his two small daughters. Like all residents of Paris, they have suffered from fuel and food shortages, from restrictions of the use of electricity and from lack of transportation.

One of the things that makes his newspaper confreres so fond of Joe is his intestinal fortitude. In 1938, just after he had covered the Munich crisis, Joe was in a near fatal auto accident on his way from London to Southampton for a vacation.

It was not months but years before Joe was really mended. But no one ever heard him mutter a discouraged or bitter word. We all came to think that Joe was someone rather special.

Other newspapermen feel that his extraordinary beat with the questionnaire to Stalin couldn't have happened to a nicer Joe.

Cakes with twenty-five lighted candles were on each table.

Rev. John C. Melchert gave the invocation before the dinner.

The past-presidents of the organization were honored at the dinner. Eight were present to be introduced to the group. They are Mrs. Clarence Garver, who served in 1930; Mrs. Bertha Fisher, 1932 and 1933; Mrs. Herman Schaller, 1936 and 1937; Miss Clara Yeager, 1938 and 1939; Mrs. Fred Matthes, 1940 and 1941: Mrs. Ralph Damlos, 1942, 1947 and 1948; Mrs. Edward Fisher, 1943 and 1944, and Mrs. W. Mrs. Beauford said "True neighborliness is founded on the Christian religion and the church must be regenerated, but it has the foundation on which to build, regardless of race or color." She also said, "We have advanced through education, yet the monster of prejudice still exists."

Mrs. Preyer told the customs in her native Puerto Rico. "The caste system, which is fast disappearing because of Christian teaching in Puerto Rico, is a holdover of the Spanish system." She went on to explain that the caste system means that a person either is a member of the rich or very poor.

"Puerto Rico is one of the most overcrowded spots in the world, but there is very little discrimination there. People have always shared with each other, showing the true spirit of friendliness," she said.

The next meeting will be February 16 at 9 a. m. with sewing in the church. A poke lunch will be served at noon with the regular meeting starting at 2 p. m.

'Presidents and Their Wives' Subject of Talk Given A. A. U. W.

THE FEBRUARY meeting of the Mansfield branch of the American Association of University Women was held Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the First Presbyterian church. This was a dessert meeting with arrangements in charge of Miss Fannie-Lew Eiler and her committee composed of Mrs. J. R. Cole, Mrs. C. J. Graver, Mrs. C. R. Keller, Miss Simon Wolf, Mrs. Martin Weisbren, Miss Virginia Howard, Miss Leona Miles, Miss Mabel Spray and Miss Marie M. Loesch.

Dessert was served from a long table centered with a floral arrangement. The appointments were in keeping with the Valentine's Day. Mrs. Graver and Mrs. Weisbren presided at the lovely table.

During the business session which followed, Miss Eleanor Wilcox, president, was in charge. Miss Frances Randall, program chairman, announced that the March meeting would be a round table of foreign students attending Ohio Wesleyan University. Mrs. Carroll Wass, social chairman, told the members that the March 1 meeting would be a covered dish dinner at Liberty park at 6:30 p. m.

Miss Janet Kelly, membership chairman, introduced one prospective member, Mrs. Norman Wilcox, Mrs. Kenneth Buhr, credentials chairman, introduced two new members, Mrs. James Cooke From Ohio State University, and Mrs. Richard Gordner from Ohio Universty.

The bride group announced that their meeting would be Feb. 10 at the home of Mrs. Virt A. Simpson, 497 Westview boulevard. The international relations group will convene with Mrs. Harold McClellan, 243 Park drive, today.

Miss Lura Brown, publicity chairman, asked to be relieved of her duties and Miss Marie M. Loesch was appointed as the new chairman.

A memorial in honor of Dr. Minnie Louella Carter was read by Miss Virginia Howard. The memorial was composed by a committee consisting of Miss Howard and Mrs. Frank Milliken.

Miss Wilcox announced that the board meeting will be held Feb. 16 at her home on West Fourth street.

At the conclusion of the business session, Miss Wilcox turned the meeting over to Miss Randall, who introduced the guest speaker, Earl Hale of Marion, Ohio. Mr. Hale's topic was "Our Presidents and Their Wives."

Mr. Hale spoke from the viewpoint of a hobbyist who has done much research on the subject and not as an historian. He defined a hobby as "Doing something you like to do when you don't have to do it." His remarks were based on the human side and not the political. He touched briefly on such interesting phases as their romances and courtships, the home life, characteristics of the wives and the children.

He felt we should judge our presidents, as well as others, on their entire lives rather than just the short span of time they are in office. Mr. Hale told the members that there have been two women candidates for the presidency. He displayed pictures of the wives after the conclusion of the talk.

Quarterly Meet Held By Guild

Members of Mansfield chapter, Wittenberg Women's Guild, met in St. Paul's Lutheran church, for their quarterly meeting.

Miss Frances Randall, president, was in charge of the meeting, attended by 22 members and two guests. The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Earl Garrison.

Guest speaker of the evening was Miss Louise Simon of Springfield, a member of the Home Economics department faculty at Wittenberg college. She spoke on "The Importance of Home Economics Training". Miss Simon was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Charles Wilcox. Mrs. Richard Wolford played two piano solos during the program.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses. Mrs Paul Lee, Mrs Glenn Miller, Mrs. Henry Fischer and Mrs. V. M. Blosser.

The group will meet again April 25, at First English Lutheran church.

CIRCLE MEETING

The Evening circle of the St. John's Guild will meet Wednesday night in the assembly room with Mrs. Louise Adams in charge of the topic,, "Peace in the World with our Neighbors." Meeting called for 7:30 p. m.

HELP-YOURSELF SUNDAES—Sitting at a soda fountain, did you ever long to get behind the counter and concoct your own sundae? This party service of "help yourself sundaes" is designed to satisfy such desires. In the center of a tray place a plate heaped generously with scoops of creamy ice cream. Around the ice cream plate, arrange dishes filled with a variety of toppings. A good selection would be pineapple, caramel, fudge, and peanut butter sauces together with pecans, maraschino cherries and perhaps some whipped cream. Provide the guests with sauce dishes and let them go to work on making their own sundaes.

ENTERTAIN CLASS

Fourteen members of the Findley-Anderson Bible class of United Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Wilson, Highland avenue, Wednesday for a covered-dish dinner. Mrs. Wilson conducted the devotional period, with Mrs. Fred Proctor in charge of the business session. The next meeting will be March 2 at the home of Mrs. E. D. Craig, 643 Bowman street.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, February 4

An exceptionally lively, progressive and enterprising day may be enjoyed, enlivened by the sudden development of unusual, unanticipated and strenuous ways of demonstrating exceptional talents, skills or projects, in which vigor, ingenuity and high enthusiasm should combine to bring into objective reach advanced hopes, practical and constructive ideas and plans, which may be lagging for lack of personal adjustments. Initiative and the energy of a rare drive should bring full fruition, with assured resources and help from influential cooperation. This may inspire confidence, even where intimate factors may fail.

The liquid leftover from canned peas or snap beans may be used in a white sauce, in gravy or in soup.

Organizing Household Tasks Will Save Time and Energy

By ELEANOR ROSS

STARTING off today is a series of suggestions and ideas geared to make that resolution of a cleaner house by 12 o'clock a reality, instead of a pleasant dream.

Assuming that the master plan is being integrated, after working out the daily and weekly plans, here are some hints to make the daily jobs even speedier, the majority of them trade secrets of old hands at housekeeping.

For that endless task of dish washing, organize, if you haven't an automatic machine. Use plenty of suds and rinse in hot water. Make use of a spray. Suds removes grease, and a boiling hot rinse kills germs. Cover the washed dishes with a towel, and, behold, they are ready for the next meal. To collect dishes from the dining table, use a wagon or a tray. Resolve to cut out all needless steps. Before beginning the job, scrape dishes well. It lightens the load.

CLEANING REFRIGERATOR

No doubt cleaning the refrigerator is on your weekly plan But do make it a practice to wash away at once any stain that occurs when food is spilled. Use lukewarm water and suds. Hot water raises the temperature. The weekly cleaning should include every nook and cranny, with warm water. Remove grating and shelves; immerse in hot suds

Don't neglect garbage cans. Wash often with soap and water, and after each cleaning, dry in sun and air. Line pail with paper, wrap each batch of garbage separately, or use special garbage pail bags, a great time-saver, and most sanitary.

Put strainer over sink drain to prevent food from getting into the pipe and clogging it Do not let the sink get stained. Scrub it out often with suds and hot water, and give the metal fixtures a wipe at the same time.

The stove needs little more than a daily washing off with suds and water. Remove spills at once, if food settles, it is hard to remove it. A badly "messed up" stove should be scrubbed thoroughly in hot water and soap, and the grids, if any, removed and washed in hot suds. If there are any unenameled parts on stove, apply stove-oil and polish dry, to prevent rust.

A GOOD RULE

To keep the bath room looking nice, every member of the household should be trained to wash tub and basin out after each using. If this rule is obeyed, there will be little chance for them to become spotted, stained or grimy. Washing with suds will keep the basin shining clean Same thing goes for the tub It should be washed with hot water and soap after each bath session. Toilet bowl should be washed regularly with a long-handled brush and soap and water, and a disinfectant or special flush used occasionally.

Put the medicine cabinet on your monthly cleaning schedule. Remove all empty or outmoded boxes and bottles at that time. Cleanse those to be retained. Brush out the cabinet and wash each shelf with suds and hot water. Watch out for old razor blades.

P-TA Founders Day to Be Observed By City Units Feb. 22

Ohio President Will Speak Here

Founders day will be observed in Mansfield by members of the P-TA council Feb. 22. Mrs. Keith Weigel, of Cleveland, head of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, will address the council in room 207, John Simpson junior high school at a session open to the public.

Several individual parent-teacher associations will also recognize the special day with speakers and most of the city's associations will mention the occasion in their programs.

Founders Day celebrates the beginning of parent - teacher groups Feb. 17 to 19, 1897 in Washington, D. C. Members of the group meeting in the capital at that time were received by Mrs. Grover Cleveland, wife of the president of the United States. Since then the organization has grown into a nation-wide and influential school subsidiary group.

Purpose of the Founders Day program is to collect money for the maintaining of the Birney Memorial at Marietta, Ga., erected to the memory of Alice McLellan Birney, who first conceived the idea of a congress of parents and teachers.

At Prospect P-TA meeting on Feb. 8, a Founders' Day skit will be presented under the direction of Wesley Jones.

Newman P-TA will have a cake walk on Feb. 8 at 7 p.m. and the proceeds will be sent on to the Founders Day memorial project. Mrs. Walter McEvoy will be in charge of the occasion.

While the other parent-teacher associations of the city will have no particular Founders Day program, its object and memorial aim will be mentioned at the various sessions this month.

At the Rebecca Grubaugh school on Feb. 8, there will be a panel discussion on the general theme, "Public Recreation, Informal Education and Group Work."

SPEAKERS SLATED

Moderator will be Norman L. Wolfe and speakers will include: Miss Agnes Kessler, YWCA executive secretary; Miss Margaret Rooney, head of the Girl Scouts; Russell Gimbel, Friendly House director Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA executive secretary; Floyd Dent, head of the Boy Scouts and Stanley Kamen, city recreational director.

Refreshments will be served by the mothers of the second grades, supervised by Mrs. John Heckert and Mrs. Frank Michols.

Donald Tennant, orchestra and band director of John Simpson junior high school, will take part of his group to West Fifth on Feb. 8 at 7:30 p. m. for a musical program for P-TA members. Mrs. Evelyn Ramsey will be in charge of the program.

A "Farmers Day Dance" has been planned for members of the Hedges P-TA, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p. m. in the gymnasium. The dance will be open to the entire community.

Robert Chew, president, is in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, will be the speaker for the Johnny Appleseed P-TA when members meet Feb. 16 for a health program. Albert Benson, president, will have charge of the session.

H. H. Rauchert is in charge of program arrangements for the social meeting which the Brinkerhoff P-TA is planning for Feb. 11 at the school. There will be cards and probably informal dancing to the juke box music.

TALKS ON HEALTH

Miss Clara Schumm, of the Public Health department will speak to Carpenter P-TA members on "Child Health in the Schools", when they assemble Feb. 15 John Enderle, vice-president, of the association, has charge of arrangements. At that meeting, there will be a report on the recent square dance at the school and a further discussion of plans for the June 3 lawn fete. A nominating committee will be appointed.

Bowman P-TA will take the occasion of its February meeting to honor the school boy patrol. It will be a covered dish dinner at Johns Park at 6:30 p. m. Feb. 8 and Maurice W. Taylor, executive director of the YMCA, will be the speaker. Frend Boals, who originated the school boy patrol idea in Mansfield, will be a guest of the occasion.

Woodland P-TA will observe the annual occasion with R. Y. Davis, fifth vice-president of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, as the speaker. Davis has been active in the program against harmful comics for school children.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP

WARREN — (AP) — The number of persons seeking work in this area increased 59 per cent during January to 1,566, William J. Hamilton, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office here, has reported.

Canada Starts Warfare On Timber Destroyers

By ROBERT BUNNELLE

OTTAWA, Ont.—(AP)—Little bugs, some carrying their own saws, are wasting Canada's forest resources by the millions worth. So Canada is organizing a special laboratory to develop ways to make these costly insects quickly sick and harmless.

This laboratory for study and propagation of insect diseases is the first of its kind in this part of the world. Located at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., it isn't much bigger than a good sized filling station. It requires a staff of only 30, but it is so carefully designed and fitted for handling the poisons of contagious diseases of insects that it's costing over a half million dollars. It will be completed late this year.

Meanwhile skilled technicians already are hard at work on the problem of causing epidemics that will kill bad bugs—a relatively new venture in forest pest control. To head this new pathological warfare on insects, Canada has just imported a world expert. He's Dr. Gernor Bergold, a German.

Before World War II, it was Germany which had made the greatest strides in using disease to kill insect pests. Dr. Bergold was the man responsible.

J. J. De Gryse, chief of Canada's forest insect investigations, has long been interested in the possibilities of keeping down destructive insects by making them sick. He knew about Dr. Bergold. So, when the war ended, Canada immediately moved to bring him here. It took two years to arrange it.

Dr. Bergold finally got here just a few weeks ago. But he's already at work at Sault Ste. Marie where the new lab is being completed as an annex to the existing forest insect laboratory run by the Canadian government and Ontario province.

While actually he is working on a number of insect disease projects, his number one job is to find something to kill off the spruce bud worm. This caterpillar-moth pest kills trees by eating the ends of the twigs and stopping growth.

Forest experts estimate that since serious infestation was noted in Canada in 1909, the spruce bud worm has cost the country 275,000,000 cords of wood—enough to run all its wood using mills for 40 years

A disease which attacks pests similar to the spruce bud worm has been found in Europe. Viruses have been brought to Canada and Dr. Bergold now is trying to transplant them to the American species.

He has been able to isolate the viruses, to purify them and even to change them slightly by special treatment such as exposure to supersonic waves. He also is studying such pests as the blackheaded bud worm, the Hemlock Looper and others.

Insects plus fires and disease have consumed half as much again wood in Canada in the last ten years as all its pulp and paper mills. There are plans not only for further parasite work but for experiments in using airplanes to dust forests with insecticides in special areas.

'Roughing It' Agrees With Technical Crew of Players

"Roughing it" seems to agree with the Mansfield Community Players' technical crew

For weeks, the group which is building the set for "Suds In Your Eye," has been carrying its own wool and coal for the hungry stove in Hickory Hall school on Lucas road

The building, abandoned for use by the county system, has become the workshop of the Players, but it's a draughty, waterless place to work The crew doesn't seem to mind, according to technical director, Walt Perl "The kids just wear their coats and the set is coming along fine," he said

Mansfield patrons of the Players will see the work of the crew next Tuesday and Wednesday nights when they view the performances of the comedy at John Simpson auditorium

Members of the crew include Norman Fleming, Fred Talcott and E D Gibson, who also have "bit" parts in the show, newcomers to the stage crew, Richard Walter, Mr and Mrs Joseph Reifenberg, Mrs Helen Holman, Alice Lamoreux, Roger Perl and Coy Collins, and "veterans" Joseph Mayer, Andrew Marocchi, Norma Leppert, Marjorie Woodard, Mrs Roberta Monahan, Mrs Murvinne Perl, Maurine Beal, Rita Fisher Betty McGregor and Mrs Nancy Talbott

County Renews Hospital Contract

Richland county commissioners have renewed an agreement with the Starling-Loving University Hospital in Columbus, for providing hospitalization for indigent persons from here

Patients sent from the county are those requiring medical attention at the clinics at that hospital The agreement calls for a payment of $11 per day per patient

Scouts See Navy Center

The Mansfield Naval Reserve Training center was thrown open to a group of Scouts from Willard yesterday afternoon by the center's commanding officer, Lt. Cmdr. J. A. Smith.

The Scouts were feted at an indoor picnic by the Navy when they arrived at the station, followed by a movie showing life at the Naval Military academy. The movie traced the development of a midshipman through the academy to his ultimate goal, a commission in the U.S. Navy as an ensign.

Radio contact with the Great Lakes Naval Training station was made during the afternoon to demonstrate one of the many phases of Naval training available at the Mansfield Naval center. Besides the radio room Scouts were shown the gyro, the modern ship's mechanical equivalent to a compass; the damage control locker, and the electrical workshops.

Of particular interest to the Scouts was the radar demonstration given by the Naval personnel at the station. A plane was "tracked" on the radar screen until it was within range, and then was "shot down."

Burglary Nets 40 Cents at Station

Burglary of the Texaco service station, North Main and Orchard streets, was discovered last night by police on routine patrol.

Officers said they found a west window in the station broken at 11:15 p.m. Nick Kunz, proprietor of the station, said 40 cents in pennies had been taken from the cash register.

Club Plans 'Guest Night'

The dance scheduled for Friday night at the Masonic Temple by the Mystic club will be a "guest night" affair, club directors announced today.

This will be the last in the series of winter dances sponsored by the club. The spring series is scheduled to start Feb. 18.

Nels Blocker and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 9:30 until 12:30. Club directors announced that due to the fact that no lunch was served at the last dance, a "super special" lunch will be served Friday night.

Club directors who are in charge of the dances are R. N. Campbell, D. C. Cole, and H. L. Dent, of Mansfield lodge; E. W. Deitrick, Ralph Damlos, and Albert Benson, of Venus lodge; Cyril F. Hartman, Alfred Barker and W. Russell McCullough, of Frank H. Marquis lodge.

Meet Tonight On Home Plan

The Richland County Child Welfare board will meet today at 7:30 p. m. at the Children's home to consider recommendations made in a survey of child welfare conditions in the county by state welfare workers.

In vited to tonight's meeting, George Stelts, president of the board said, are the three county commissioners, Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer, Vernon Lawrence, president of the Child Welfare council, and three officials of the State Welfare department.

They are Judge Henry J. Robison, chief of the Division of Social Administration; Mrs. Virginia Ferguson, who prepared the survey report, and John R. Ferguson, head of Children's Services for the division.

City Schools Get Check For $2,253,307

The Mansfield Board of Education yesterday received a check for $2,253,307.50 from a financial syndicate headed by Glore, Forgan and company, New York, the successful bidder.

The $3,307.50 extra is the premium paid by the syndicate. Mansfield voters last November approved the issuance of $2,250,000 in school bonds to complete the building program.

The bonds will be retired annually beginning next year, with $95,000 worth to be retired each year from 1950 through 1967, and $90,000 worth annually from 1968 through 1973.

Gas Line Leak Brings Firemen

Firemen said there was no damage. The house is occupied by George Benton.

Cut Rate Said Drive Benefit

BUCYRUS — A sharp reduction in industrial insurance rates has been a direct result of intensive safety campaigns waged by the Ohio Farm Safety committee and farm organizations, Floyd Badgley, claims agent for the state industrial commission, asserted here this week at a meeting of Crawford county farmers.

With the decrease in farm accidents, industrial insurance has dropped from $4.65 to $2.15 per $100 payroll, Badgley pointed out.

5 In Galion Enter Race For Mayor

Three Republicans Vie With Incumbent

GALION — Five candidates filed for the local mayoralty race as yesterday's deadline was reached. Three of the hopefuls are Republicans—Jay F. Nichols, former mayor; Lee Johnston, young businessman, and Ralph W. Graham, councilman.

Dr. H. H. Hartmann, Democratic incumbent, who is completing his 10th team (not consecutive), will be opposed by Jay G. Lee, retired telegraph operator and realtor on the Democratic ticket.

The Democrats have two men who filed for president of council: Otto Pfeifer, incumbent, who has served some 14 years (not consecutive), and Ward M. Peoples. The latter is a former clerk of courts in Morrow county, and during Lausche's first term was in the office of the Ohio Department of Insurance. He now is employed at the North Electric company here.

On the Republican ticket, Curtis W. Tracht, will run for president of council, a position he has held before. George H. Davies, Democratic incumbent, was the only candidate to file for city solicitor.

A real race will be on for Second ward councilman since J. W. Engard and W. H. Kunkel, incumbent, are opponents on the Democratic ticket, and Merritt C. McElroy and Robert Spangler are opponents on the Republican ticket.

For First ward councilman, Floyd W. Steffee, Democrat, filed, and E. W. McHenry, Republican, filed. For Third ward councilman, J. A. Anker, Republican incumbent, filed again, and D. L. Kline, Democrat, filed. For Fourth ward, John W. Spears, Democrat, will be unopposed, and Charles B. Monroe, Republican, will be unopposed.

Three councilmen - at - large will be chosen. Those who filed on the Republican ticket are: Roma W. Stall, incumbent, J. Gerald Bonnar and J. William Caris. Democratic candidates will be George V. Cronenwett, Elmer L. Thatcher and John H. Voss.

Clio Kreiter, Democratic incumbent, filed again for city treasurer. Republicans did not seek this post.

Floyd O. Myers, O. E. Neal, ward councilmen now serving, and M. G. Thompson, councilman-at-large, did not refile for nomination.

Dems Seek Crestline Post

CRESTLINE — No Republicans filed in this city's mayoralty race but three Democrats will seek the post, it was revealed as the filing deadline passed yesterday. Albert P. Sonner, incumbent, will be opposed by Howard Foltz and G. T. Weis.

Democrats also dominate the Bucyrus mayoralty race with R. L. Hertzer, incumbent, being opposed by James R. Kehrer and T. H. Baker, Frank P. Sitler, real estate agent, is the lone GOP candidate.

The Crestline list of candidates, in addition to the mayor, includes the following Democrats: Clerk, Marie Schill; treasurer, Henry E. Gresmer; council, Angelo Ermi, Dallas V. Roose, Edward H. Blocker, Martin Jasper Long, Harvey A. Whipple, Wilbur Emmer; trustees of public affairs, Clayton E. Dray, John W. Hoke and C. E. Boals.

Texas Shipments Drop to One-Eighth

Freezing Spell In Southland Results In Higher Food Prices to Consumers

(By Associated Press)

The flash freeze that hit the Texas produce belt Monday shoved prices of several winter vegetables higher this week in many cities across the country.

The price of meat and dairy products remained unchanged generally, despite a few regional declines.

Texas produces the bulk of winter beets, parsley and spinach, and prices of these vegetables advanced moderately as shipments dropped away to fractions of last week's supply. Spinach and beets were up about 15 per cent above last week and parsley was about 25 per cent higher.

An average of 120 carloads of mixed vegetables leave the Lone Star state daily, but this dropped to 15 the day of the freeze and has been light since.

The freeze also improved the price tone of cabbage, last week a drug on the produce market and disposed of at virtually "give-away" prices by retailers. Prices were stable for vegetables grown in other states besides Texas.

Warmer weather eased Texas growing conditions Tuesday and officials reported the freeze had not materially affected the state's vitrus crop. Citrus fruits from California, Florida and Texas were unchanged in price except for a minor increase in large fancy oranges. Many retailers, however, expect a rise soon in the price of canned citrus fruit.

Beef prices remain the same, although retailers in some sections predicted they would be shaded a trifle by the week's end. In Chicago, a livestock marketing analyst said in a trade paper article that price cuts on livestock in recent months had not been passed on entirely to the consumer.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said in a report that consumers are doing more complaining about food prices than is justified. In general, the department said, "the level of food prices is not high enough to warrant all the outcries against farmers and food handlers."

There was little nation-wide change in the cost of dairy products, although some areas reported milk down from one-half to 2 cents a quart and eggs down as much as 4 cents a dozen. Fancy cheeses were a little cheaper. Butter was unchanged.

The Dunn & Bradstreet wholesale food index declined to $5.88 this week, a new low since the end of OPA price control in October, 1946. The decline was 0.5 per cent off last week, 17.6 under a year ago and 20.1 off the all-time high of last July 13.

The index represents the total wholesale cost of a pound of each of 31 foods in general use.

Foods that advanced in wholesale price were flour, lard, butter, cocoa and peas, Dun & Bradstreet said. Lower were wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley, beef, hams, sugar milk, cottonseed oil, beans, raisins, steers and lambs. In most cases the increases or declines have not yet been passed on to the consumer.

The Precision-Mixed Way—Proven for 27 Years

For 27 years millions of housewives have used Flako Pie Crust Mix. They have never known pie-baking "ups and downs." They have never had to bother with measuring and sifting. They have simply added water to Flako, then rolled the dough and baked. And out of the oven have come light and flaky pies every time. Flako precision mixing does it. Plus the exceptionally fine quality of Flako's ingredients.

Largest Seller

No other pie crust mix has pleased so many housewives and been proven by them for so long as Flako. Flako has many imitators. But there is no substitute for the quality and flakiness of Flako. And today, as always, Flako is America's largest selling pie crust mix.

You, too, can rely upon Flako. If you are a good cook, the quality of Flako's ingredients will give you results you'll be proud of. If you are not so lucky at pie crust making, Flako will give you flaky pies at every baking. Get Flako; also Flakorn Corn Muffin Mix and Cuplets Cup Cake Mix. All made by the same company. All at your grocer's.

Odd Addresses Seen In Probe On Divorces

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Some people granted divorces in Franklin county had some queer addresses, Prosecuting Attorney Ralph J. Bartlett concluded Tuesday.

Some two dozen witnesses appeared before the grand jury in the initial phase of what the prosecutor said was an investigation of a "divorce mill."

In his own investigation, Bartlett said, he found addresses used by successful divorce applicants included: An elementary school, a park shelter house, a drug store, food market, vacant lot, a garage, entrance to an alley and a street intersection.

VA Predicts Openings

College graduates in the fields of medicine, kindergarten and elementary school teaching, psychology, and certain phases of electrical engineering will be in greater demand in the next few years, according to a report received by the Mansfield Veterans Administration office.

The report was compiled for the VA by the Occupational Outlook service, of the Department of the Interior.

The report said there will be an over-abundance of general engineering, chemical, law, pharmaceutical, and personnel relation graduates for that same period, and competion in these fields would be keen.

The VA office suggests that veterans consider these facts carefully before choosing any particular course of study in these fields.

Hutchinson Turns Down Detroit Bid

DETROIT — (UP) — The Detroit Tigers had an important holdout on their hands today in pitcher Freddie Hutchinson, who won 13 games last season and refuses to work in 1949 for the same salary he received in 1948.

However, four other Tiger players have signed 1949 contracts. They were shortstop Eddie Lake and outfielder Jimmy Outlaw, rookies Bob Mavis and Johnny Creel, neither of whom have been up with Detroit before.

Frittering Away

AMG Officials See U. S. Losing Out

By WES GALLAGHER

BERLIN—(AP)—Is the United States frittering away its diplomatic advantages in Europe with piecemeal negotiations by diplomats unfamiliar with the problems?

This question has been raised here privately by many American military government officials who feel the United States is defeating its own ends in Germany by these tactics.

These officials, who decline to be quoted directly, advocate one over-all top level conference with Britain and France, in which the question of Germany and its related problems would be settled in one complete package.

They feel all the problems of securing Germany from waging another war could be worked out within the framework of the Western Military Alliance and western union bolstered by U. S. guarantees.

They claim the United States is constantly making concessions in isolated conferences without gaining anything in return.

They assert that American, British and French differences made virtually no progress toward settlement in months, that these differences threaten the European Recovery program and allied solidarity against the Russians.

Individual ideas differ slightly among members of this group, but can be summed up according to the views they express privately as follows:

"The United States has the twin task in Germany of making western Germany self-sufficient to relieving the taxpayers of billions of dollars payments. At the same time it must see that Germany is disarmed and does not threaten the security of Europe again.

"The French, for example, have a legitimate claim to security, and the United States should make certain it is satisfied. But this security settlement should come within the framework of a general settlement.

"The French raise the security question on every issue brought up from how the Germans should collect customs to what they should manufacture.

'French security demands should be satisfied, and once satisfied should not be allowed to interfere with every other question in Germany.

"The United States has agreed to French demands for the Saar, international control of the Ruhr, boundary changes, and dozens of other lesser points on the plea of security. But France still has not merged its zone with the Bizone, as desired by the United States, has not reached agreement on prohibited industries, dismantling and other problems affecting the American taxpayer.

No satisfactory agreement can be reached until the whole problem is studied as a whole. Not only the three big powers' views on Germany, but how Germany is to take its place with the rest of Europe must be settled.

"Either held or going to be held are at least six conferences which have been or are being conducted as though they were dealing with remotely different problems."

"Americans here point out that some of those who have been conducting discussions, have had little or no experience on the German problem while France and Britain have used experienced top-flight negotiators on all conferences.

"Neither the top experts on Germany in the state department nor in Germany itself have been used on these conferences.

"It is an old paradox that when we go into a conference with the Russians, we marshall all our top-flight men and concentrate on trying to reach some overall settlement", one military government official said.

"Yet when we try to build a United Europe and settle Germany's problems, we use dozens of scattered negotiations which increase our problems in place of diminishing them."

Community Fund To Get Proceeds

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The world champion Cleveland Indians will play the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National league in an exhibition here the night of July 13.

The Indians, announcing this today, said their share of the proceeds from the game will go to the comunity fund. This changes the procedure of the past few years. The charity game has been the last regularly scheduled game of the year.

Out on Bond In Poisoning

AKRON — (INS) — Marilyn Stevenson of nearby Copley was to be arraigned in Akron Municipal court today on charges that she administered poison to an Akron veterinarian. The 23-year-old model was freed Tuesday night on $1,000 bond arranged by the veterinarian.

Detective Capt. John F. Struzenski said that Miss Stevenson admitted placing the poison in a bottle of milk in the home of Dr. Charles F. Jones, 38, last Thursday.

The girl told police that she had been "going with" the animal doctor for about two years. Dr. Jones, however, claims that he broke off with Miss Stevenson about seven months ago. He is married and has a 16-year-old stepdaughter.

AKRON GI DIES IN FIRE

TOKYO — (AP) — S/Sgt. John R. Colgar, 26, of Akron, was one of four Air Force men who died in a barracks fire Sunday at Yokota, it was announced yesterday. The blaze, of undetermined origin, burned five other airmen seriously, the Far East Air Force headquarters reported.

GUILTY SECRET

An elderly lady, who was always complaining about her ailments, would never come down to breakfast—stating that she could stomach nothing more than a cup of hot water.

One morning, her daughter entered the old lady's room without knocking and discovered her mother polishing off a bowl of hot Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal.

The old lady sighed. "You might as well know," she said. "The maid's been bringing this cereal up the back stairs for years.

"How else," she went on, "do you suppose I've kept up the energy to complain so much?"

Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal tastes delicious, cooks in 3½ minutes. Get a box today.

National Scout Week

'Congress' Will Highlight Varied Programs In City

Mansfield Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will celebrate National Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 through 12, with a wide variety of special programs and scouting features designed to acquaint Mansfielders with the activities of Scouting.

State recognition of the event will be held in Columbus, Saturday, Feb. 12, at 11:30 a.m. when Governor Frank J. Lausche will accept a report from the 27 Ohio Scouting Areas.

James Ogden, Eagle Scout of Mansfield troop 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Ogden, 310 Vennum avenue, and John Karnes, Eagle Scout of Galion troop 5 will present the report for the Johnny Appleseed area.

Accompanying Scouts Ogden and Karnes will be W. C. Mead, president of the Johnny Appleseed Scout council, and Floyd Dent, Scout executive of the Johnny Appleseed area.

ROLLER TO SPEAK

The week's activities in Mansfield will be inaugurated Sunday night at 7:30 in the First Presbytrian church, when Rev. David Neil Roller will conduct special "Scout Services". Rev. Roller's sermon on "Three Great Young Men" will parallel the lives of biblical characters with today's scouts who live up to the Scout Oath.

Sunday night's program is under the direction W. C. Mead and will include the annual rededication of the Scout Law and Oath. Mrs. J. A. Herbert, commissioner of the Mansfield Girl Scouts, and C. G. Hillier, commissioner of the Mansfield Boy Scouts, will lead their respective groups in this rededication ceremony.

The big day of the week is Tuesday, when the Mansfield Scout congress will participate in an all-day program with city officials and the Rotary club.

The Scout congress is composed of one more representatives, chosen by each troop and a president and a vice president to govern the congress who are elected by all scouts in Mansfield. Members of the congress are being elected this week by the troops at their respective meetings.

Tuesday's schedule begins at 9.00 a.m. in municipal court where the Scouts of the congress will witness a civil court trial. Following the trial Judge H. H. Schettler will discuss the judicial branch of city government.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn will then explain the executive branch of city government, and city council president Paul Bush will point out the features of the legislative branch.

GUESTS OF ROTARY

Tuesday noon the entire Scout congress will be the guests of the Rotary club at a luncheon given at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The remainder of the week will be filled with demonstrations of scouting activities to various agencies and clubs throughout the city. All troops are having some type of special scouts-and-parents dinner or other activity in observance of Scout Week.

The observance of Scout Week is in recognition of the incorporation of the Scout movement at Washington, D. C. in February of 1910. On Tuesday, Feb. 8, the actual date of Scouting's birthday in America, Scouts throughout the nation, as if in one voice, will recommit the Scout Oath at 8:15 p.m.

Other programs throughout the country include a report to Honorary Scout President, President Harry S. Truman. The report to President Truman will be given by 12 Scouts from various parts of the country representing the more than two million Scouts and Scouters.

Eagle Scout James Roswurm, of Huron, Ohio will be the delegate representing Scouts from the Ohio-West Virginia-Kentucky region, to the President.

Extension Service Offers Home Economics Scholarship

An annual scholarship in home economics at Ohio State university has been established by the Agricultural Extension service.

The scholarship was made possible through action of the state and county home demonstration councils and will be known as the Minnie Price scholarship in honor of Miss Price, home demonstration leader in Ohio since 1923.

Work on establishing the council was begun early last year by the State Demonstration council through a special committee consisting of Mrs. Victor Stine, of Shelby, Mrs. Gale Boosinger, of Mechanicsburg, and Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, of Circleville.

Nominations for the scholarships will be asked from the county home demonstration councils. Money was collected through the home demonstration councils and by late December the original goal of $5,000 had been passed by several hundred dollars.

Mountain Climber Talks to Pupils

C. Findley Bowers of Warren, spoke to the general assembly at Senior high school yesterday morning on "Skyland Trails."

Bowers, a mountain climber, illustrated his talk on the colored movies, showing Pike's Peak, Mt. Evans, and many others which he climbed in a 1,000 mile hiking expedition. Many of his pictures were those of the wild animals found on mountain trails.

Bill Would Set Up Fund For Hospital

An emergency measure to provide money for projects for various state welfare institutions would give the Mansfield Reformatory an additional $225,000 toward a new hospital.

The emergency appropriation would provide, in all, $4,366,000 for the state institutions requiring new projects. The emergency measure was introduced yesterday in the House.

Bids on a three-story, 70-bed hospital at the Reformatory received in November exceeded the $330,918 estimate by $133,946. Extra money was asked of the legislature in order to go ahead with the project.

Former City Salesman Dies

E. E. Hoppes, 55, onetime Mansfield automobile salesman, died in Cape May, N. J. Tuesday night, it was learned here today. He had been ill three weeks.

Mr. Hoppes live in Mansfield for 20 years, and moved away 10 years ago. At the time of his death he was a tombstone salesman.

He is survived by his widow, Faye; two daughters, Miss Patricia Hoppes, of Cape May, and Mrs. Jean Smith of Philadelphia; two granddaughters; and a niece, Mrs. Gladys Kohler, of Lucas. Funeral and burial services will be held Saturday afternoon in Cape May.

The Indian caste system, in steps leading down, were the Brahmans, originally priests and scholars; the Kshatriya or warriors, now Rajputs; the Vaisya or merchant group; the Sudra, or followers of "clean occupations" and finally, Untouchables, originally assigned to the lowest of menial labors.

Wage Freeze Predicted

BOSTON — (INS) — Approximately one million 292 thousand woolen, worsted and cotton operatives in the United States faces a probable "wage freeze" for at least eight months as a result of a second of two weeks by private arbiters.

A decision handed down yesterday denied a 10-cent hourly wage increase to 23,000 CIO Woolen and Worsted workers in Massachusetts.

It followed a similar ruling on the request of 30,000 cotton textile workers in Fall River and New Bedford for a 10-cent hourly increase made Jan. 17.

'Working' Bandits In Daring Holdup

MIAMI BEACH, FLA. — (UP) — Merchantile National Bank officials estimated today that two "workingmen" bandits, who had been given the run of the building, escaped with $80,000 in cash after their daring holdup Tuesday.

FBI agents and detectives searching for any slim clue also learned that the two men, whom no one could describe accurately, had "cased" the building unquestioned for alarm wires for several days prior to the robbery in the guise of escalator repairmen.

Thomas Jefferson, in 1801, was the first President of the United States to be inaugurated in Washington, D.C.

NEW SCHOOL GOING UP—The partly-built West Fifth Street school is expected to replace the old building in the background by the opening of the 1949 school year.

Two More Units To Be Ready Next Summer

Half-Way Mark Reached In Mansfield's Huge School, Library Building Program

By DOUG CHEVALIER

More than half of the projects in Mansfield's four-million-dollar school and library modernization program are completed, under construction, or in the blueprint stage, a survey showed today.

When the program is completed, probably early in the 1950's, every public junior high and grade school in the city will have been built or remodeled since 1939 and the public library will present the appearance of a new building.

Already finished of the 10 elementary school projects, which will consume the major portion of the $4,361,000 voted to revamp school facilities, are the Rebecca Grubaugh school and the Roseland school. West Fifth street and Newman buildings are under construction. They are expected to be ready for the opening of the 1949 school year.

In the blueprint stage are a 13-room school for the Maple Lake area, and a seven-room addition to Woodland school.

COMBINE 2 SCHOOLS

Still to come is a new building to combine Brinkerhoff and Carpenter schools, a new 13-room Prospect school, and an 18-room addition to the fireproof section of Bowman school.

Other objectives of the building program include a field house for high school athletics, enlargement of the cafeteria at Senior high school, improvement of the Johnny Appleseed athletic field, and modernization of the lighting facilities at the high school.

The problem of overcrowding in the elementary schools makes it necessary to work on them first, W. L. Miller, superintendent of school, explained. The schools which are the most inadequate are being replaced first, and the less pressing needs will have to come in their turn, he said.

"We can't do everything at once, because for one thing, there's a limit to the amount of labor we can get for the construction," Miller pointed out. "We want to get it all done as rapidly as possible, so we're building first where the need is greatest."

The 17-room West Fifth street school is the more advanced of the two buildings under construction. Workmen are laying second floor slabs, and the job has progressed to the point where the bricks for the first floor are all laid. The building will cost nearly $500,000 and will include a lunch room and a gymnasium-auditorium. When completed the new school will accommodate about 550 pupils. The general contract is being handled by the Mountaineer Construction company.

READY IN JULY

Two rooms in the old building were razed to make room for the construction of the new school. Miller said the project is expected to be completed in July.

The new 14-room Newman school, also due to be completed in July, should be under roof in a month if good weather continues, Miller said. The one-story structure, started last August, is expected to cost $364,000, and will accommodate 450 pupils. It is being built by the Friebel and Hartman Construction firm of Shelby.

As in the case of the West Fifth street school, the old building will be torn down when the new one is completed. Both schools will serve the same areas when they are completed, Miller said.

The Newman building, which faces Central evenue, is located between Grace street and Spring street. The West Fifth Street building is going up on the lot adjacent to the old school, between Bowman and Miller streets.

In the spring, construction will begin on three new projects, Miller said. They will include the new school to serve the Maple Lake area, an addition to Woodland school, and an addition to the Hedges school.

Preliminary plans for the new 13-room building to be built in the Maple Lake district are now being determined. Architect Harry J. Brumenshenkel told the board of education he could submit complete specifications for the $350,000 building 60 days after preliminary plans are drawn up.

Plans for the seven-room addition to the present Woodland school are being developed by Vernon Redding associates, architectural firm. The plans for an 11-room addition to the Hedges school are in the hands of Architect Charles W. Conklin.

The board of education hopes to complete these projects by the time the 1950 school year opens.

The three remaining elementary school projects, including the new Brinkerhoff-Carpenter building, the new Prospect building and the Bowman school addition will be started as soon as possible, Miller said.

NEED MORE SPACE

Miller said the elementary school program is getting priority over all else because birth rates of recent years indicate overcrowding is going to be particularly acute in the lower grades in the next few years.

He said the over-all needs of school facilities can be predicted closely by studies of birth rates, and the entire building program was based on future needs forecast by the number of births in the city over the past few years.

Indications are that the birth rate has reached its peak and has begun to level off. Thus school facilities should be sufficient to take care of Mansfield for a long time when the present building goal is reached, Miller said.

Closely related to the school building program and included in the funds voted by two bond issues is a proposal to expand the public library. In 1945, $80,000 was earmarked to expand the library. To that sum was added $50,000 in the last school bond issue.

The library improvement project includes constructing an addition to the rear of the building, lowering the entrance to bring it closer to the level of Third street, and remodeling the interior. The two-story addition will extend from the present building to the alley behind it. Architect Herbert S. Jones said plans are now being drawn up, and construction will begin in two months.

The final projects to wind up school construction will include a $250,000 field house adjacent to Senior High school to accommodate an expanded athletic program and to provide better facilities for basketball games, and a $25,000 improvement of junior high school athletic fields.

Improvement of lighting facilities at Senior High school and enlargement of the cafeteria there is expected to cost about $75,000.

Tygers Face A's 18-Tilt Home Win Streak

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

HANK GOWDY got his start in professional ball with Lancaster in the Ohio State league way back in 1912. . . . At that time he drew 75 bucks a month, actually a princely sum in those days . . . One of Hank's teammates was Walter Justus, a fine minor league pitcher. . . .During the season of '12, Justus pitched a no-hitter against Mansfield, one of four he twirled that year . . . Stanley Niemiec, Rutherford, N. J., holds the top bowling mark in the country for the 1948-49 league campaign . . Niemiec rolled an 805 series . . . Talking about bowling, Oran Weeks, El Centro, Cal., kegler, tips the scales at 345 pounds . . . His average is 169, less than half his weight . . . Canton McKinley has a freshman, Herb Shrade, in the starting basketball lineup . . . He made his first start against Akron Kenmore and netted 13 points.

YORKVILLE'S Ken Alezzi still has a bit to go before he takes all basketball scoring laurels . . . Last week the 5-7 sharpshooter flipped in 65 and 55 points in successive games . . . Just five years ago, Dick Hamsher of Walnut Creek (near Canton) swished home 77 counters against Glenmont . . . Walnut Creek won, 153 to 46 . . . EXPERTS say that Gene Woodling, the former Mansfield Brave fly-chaser can't miss in his third try for major league baseball fame . . .The clever-swatting youngster had tries with Cleveland and Pittsburgh but is going south this time with the Yankees . . . Woodling hit only .188 in 61 games for Cleveland in 1946 . . . He had always been a standout minor league hitter . . . But last year, Gene really found himself and clubbed .385 for San Francisco to lead the PCL . . . He batted in 101 runs.

Spot Pitcher Signs For '49

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Ken Raffensberger, spot pitcher who tossed two one-hitters against the St. Louis Cardinals last year, was in the Cincinnati Reds fold today after turning in his signed contract.

Three other redleg hurlers also returned signed contracts yesterday. They were Kent Peterson, Harry Perkowski and Millard Howell. Ray Lamanno, veteran catcher, and Charles Kress, first baseman, also signed.

Raffensberger won 11 games and lost 12 last year. He walked only 37 batters in 189 innings. There are now 22 Reds signed for the 1949 season.

Coach May Install Zone Defensive

Mansfield Coach Vern Hoffman may once again dig into his bag of tricks for an answer to the old Ashland basketball problem.

The first time the two teams met this year, Hoffman inserted Ed Demyan and Ken McCally in the starting lineup and the new combo paid off with a 56-to-40 victory over the favored Ashlanders. That team has now won five of the last seven games, the losses being at New Philadelphia and Bellevue.

When the teams meet tomorrow night, Ashland will be riding the crest of an 18 game home court winning streak. No team has been able to beat the A's at home since a Hoffman-coached crew turned the trick back in 1947.

CAN'T WIN AWAY

The Tygers have been something less than sensational away from home. They've played on the road in seven games and won only two. One was the seasonal opener and the other was last week against a weak Fremont Ross team.

Hoffman actually fears Ashland and can't figure the favorites role his charges have been cast in. After all, says he, "Ashland has a pretty good court—at least for the Ashland team. There's no out-of-bounds room under the baskets and a stage floor always works a hardship on teams not used to that type."

Then, too, the Ashland pressing defense could bother Senior high. Columbus East used that style last Friday and nearly ruined the Tygers' long winning streak, 37 to 36.

MAY USE ZONE

To offset any Ashland home court advantage Hoffman may rely on a zone defense for the first time this year. The Tygers have used a zone momentarily in a couple of games but never as a steady diet.

Work on fundamentals has been the order all week in the Bengal drill camp. The Tygers will taper off with a light drill tonight. Co-captain Paul "Pinkie" Ferguson is still wearing a bandage on his knee but the other Bengals are in good condition.

A. C. Jenkins, who looked good as a sub in the East contest, has been alternating at guard with McCally this week.

Hot Stovers Meet Tonight

Second 1949 meeting of the Hot Stove league is scheduled tonight at 7:30 at the municipal courtroom in the city building.

In addition to the regular gab session of sports, the Hot Stovers will elect officers for the season and lay some more groundwork for the junior baseball program this summer. Any Mansfielder interested in sports can attend the session.

Presiding officers are: Fred Tharp, president; Luther McCally, vice-president; Stan Kamen, secretary-treasurer; Dewey Durant, Fred Rizzo, Aid Geiger, John Fike, Gene Hartnett and Bill McCarrick, board of directors.

ENDS THE RUMORS—Rumored ready to take the coaching job at several universities, Paul Brown, very successful coach of the Cleveland Browns of the All-America conference, has signed a new five-year contract to coach the Browns. The new agreement won't go into effect until his present contract expires in 1950. It is believed Brown signed for an annual salary of $25,000 plus a share of the gate receipts. Brown (left) is seen with Owner Arthur McBride.—(International)

DeWitt Brothers Purchase Control of Brown Outfit

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Two brothers—Bill and Charlie DeWitt—bought controlling interest in the St. Louis Browns yesterday, ending more than a year of rumors on the team's status. The club will remain at St. Louis.

The DeWitts—who were born in north St. Louis—have purchased 56 per cent of the stock owned by Richard C. Muckerman. Added to two per cent they already held, they now have 58 per cent in the American league baseball club.

Bill DeWitt said "As long as we have anything to say about them the Browns will stay in St. Louis."

He also said there would be no personnel changes. Zack Taylor will remain as manager.

CLUBS AND PARKS

The sale includes the Browns, five minor league clubs owned outright by the Browns and two ball parks—Sportsman's park at St. Louis and a new ball park at San Antonio, Tex.

No official sale price was announced, but it is believed that they paid about $1,000,000 for Muckerman's stock.

Bill DeWitt added:

"There are no associates in this thing with us. It's Charlie and myself."

Bill said he will become president and Charlie vice president of the new organization. Bill also will remain as general manager and Charlie as traveling secretary for the time being.

There are 215,000 shares of Browns' stock outstanding. An estimated 1,400 stockholders hold the remainder.

It was the second sale of a St. Louis major league club in six days. Fred M. Saigh jr. bought Robert Hannegan's interests in the St. Louis Cardinals last Thursday.

This Will Hurt If Mat Artists Must Stay In

CLEVELAND— (INS) —Promoter Jack Ganson and wrestlers Bobby Bruns and Orville Brown were to appear before the Cleveland boxing and wrestling commission today to explain about an unscheduled slugfest.

Brown and Bruns apparently lost their tempers at Cleveland Central Armory last night and decided to continue their main event match among the ringside spectators.

Boxing commissioner Andy Putka, who was in the audience, told the referee to disqualify both contestants and ordered Ganson to hold up their purse.

"If wrestling can't be kept in the ring then it will be out in Cleveland," Putkan told Ganson when he ordered him and the two grapplers to appear before the commission.

Cards To Choose New Coach Today

CHICAGO—(UP)—The Chicago Cardinals, winner of the national football league's western division championship for the past two years and league champions in 1947, will announce their new head coach today.

Although there was no intimation of the man selected, it was believed the job would go to Phil Handler, who was line coach under Jim my Conzelman who resigned to devote his time to an advertising business in St. Louis.

Injured Ben Hogan Will Play Again

EL PASO, Tex.—(AP)—Tiny Ben Hogan, who fought illness and fatigue along golf's weary tournament trail for more than a decade without being knocked from his pedestal, even won out over a bus. But it will be a long time before he's his same fighting self again.

The golf world heard today that little Ben, seriously injured yesterday in a traffic accident, would probably play once more. but some other golfer will be king of the links in the coming year.

MANY INJURIES

The little guy, who was National Open and National PGA champion, leading money winner and golfer of the year in 1948, suffered a fractured pelvis, broken collar bone, possible fracture of a rib, and other injuries yet to be determined, when his car crashed with a Greyhound bus near Van Horn, Tex.

The bantam of the links had to wait two hours for medical aid. An ambulance dashed 152 miles from Van Horn to El Paso to bring Hogan to a hospital here, where five hours later a bulletin said Ben would make it but would be out of competition on the links for a long, long time.

His pretty brunet wife, Valerie, suffered minor hurts but was able to smile last night as she said:

"It's tough but we're both lucky to be alive."

She said they were mighty happy that Ben didn't have a broken back as first feared.

GOING HOME

Hogan was on the way to his home in Ft. Worth. After playing in four tournaments, he had quit the golf trail and said he did not plan to resume play until the Augusta, Ga., Masters in April.

Because the 36-year-old golf star sought to protect his wife by throwing himself across her when the crash occurred was the reason his injuries were not more serious than they turned out to be. It threw him out of the way of the steering wheel of his 1949 Cadillac automobile which was jammed into the back seat.

Wooster Swimming Ace Injured While Skiing

WOOSTER — (UP) — Charles Southwick, ace back - stroke swimmer for the College of Wooster, may be lost for the remainder of the 1949 swimming season because of a knee injury, Coach Carl B. Munson said today.

Stirtzinger Leads Honor Roll Bowlers

Led by Al Stirtzinger of Deschner Cabs, an army of seven City A league bowlers rolled their way onto the mythical honor roll last night at the Colony alleys.

Stirtzinger blasted 234-234-204—672 to set the pace for all leagues with little trouble. His nearest competition was a 618 concocted by Farrell Hipp of 36 Bar on games of 245, 192 and 181.

Other 600 scorers were: Abie Keefer, Waldman's Meats, 611; Joe Villella, Deschner Cabs, 608; Ken Carlisle, Deschner's, 605, and Cliff Forsythe, Dr. Pepper, 604.

Just under the mark were: Paul Walrick, Liederkranz, 599; Gene Funston, Ace Cabs, 592; Bob Lynch, Bissman's, 590; Frank Burton, Frankie Mitsch's, 587; Charles Henry, Mid-Ohio, and W. Young, 36 Bar, both had 579.

Deschner's 2,957 was the top team score while Jerry's 36 Bar posted the best game, a 1,022.

★

Dick Irvin of Whitney Oils was in the van in the Victory loop with 147-170-230—547. John Worst of OSR was runner-up with 537, Earl Turner, Tony's Canfield, had 535, and Russell Shade, Ideal Panel, 519.

Battle Set For Second In 'A' Loop

With Penn Auto-Sporting Goods having the second half championship practically ready to carry home, the battle for second place will occupy the main point of interest in City A league play set for John Simpson gym tonight.

Penn Auto, beaten only once in six games, is a game ahead in the all-important loss column with only one game left to play. Penn meets last place Yuncker Sports next Monday and should have little trouble clinching the title then.

Meanwhile Rogers Jewelry, Ohio Sport Center and Martin Hardware are all tied for the runner-up spot. Rogers and Sport Center meet in the 7 p. m. opening game tonight while Martin Hardware takes on Richland Beverage in the second game. Yuncker Sports and Urschel Insurance clash in the nightcap.

St. Louis and Kentucky March Toward Cage Title

Ohio Court Teams Lose 3, Win One

NEW YORK—(UP)—The St. Louis Billikens, who got a painful lesson in defensive basketball from the Oklahoma Aggies, were using the hard-earned knowledge today to keep in the running for the collegiate national championship.

Not even the slow-motion Aggies could have improved much on the airtight defense used by the Bills last night to drub Missouri, 38 to 27, for their 14th win in 15 games.

Missouri's Tigers managed to get just 45 shots at the basket—and sank only nine of them.

TROUNCE ALABAMA

The Kentucky Wildcats, whose only defeat was by St. Louis, continued their march titleward by trouncing Alabama, 56-40, for their 15th win in 16 games. It was the second win of the week for Kentucky which plays Mississippi tonight and tough Bradley on Saturday.

(By Associated Press)

Five out-of-state college basketball teams invaded Ohio last night. Two won and three lost.

Mt. Union turned back Washington & Jefferson, 48 to 38, the University of Cincinnati downed Maryland, 70 to 33, and Miami university defeated Ball State of Muncie, Ind., 66 to 58.

On the other side, Taylor university of Upland, Ind., defeated Defiance college, 75 to 66, and Marshall college of Huntington, W. V., defeated Youngstown, 83 to 60.

ONE IN STATE

One other college game was played in the state—Wooster taking a 68 to 66 win over Findlay.

For Taylor, it was a case of avenging a previous 78 to 70 loss to Defiance. Last night's defeat was Defiance's seventh in 15 starts.

Miami's Redskins came from 16 points behind to trip Ball State. The Ohio team played its first game of the season without Bob Brown and Paul Schnackenberg, both of whom completed their eligibility with the end of the first semester.

Cincinnati had a second-half game-winning spurt in their tilt with Maryland. The visitors were handicapped by the absence of two first stringers, but made a fight of it in the first half and trailed only 28 to 22 at the intermission. The lead changed hands 11 times during the first 20 minutes.

GETS 19 POINTS

W & J's defeat was its second in nine games. Mt. Union's Forward Bill Herman led his team to victory with 19 points.

Marshall college ran away with the Youngstown quartet after hitting the basket consistently from all angles. Dick Erickson and Bob Wright with 20 and 15 points respectively were high scorers for Marshall.

It was a close victory for Wooster's Scots in their two-point win over Findlay. Wooster held a 34 to 28 lead at half time. Bob Wortman of Findlay took scoring honors for the game with 22 points. It was Findlay's seventh loss in 14 games, and Wooster's sixth win in 12 starts.

QUICK, BOY, THE SMELLING SALTS—This wasn't the beginning of the end for Virgil Wharton, Columbus, O.—it was the end Wharton was kayoed by Billie Muth of Clark, N. J., just as the photographer snapped this prize shot. Action is in Golden Gloves tourney in Kenosha, Wis.

Buffalo Pucksters Rap Barons, 11-3

The Buffalo Bisons, a dormant factor in the American Hockey League's Western Division race during the past two weeks, seemed to have come to life today for their new coach, Roy Goldsworthy.

The Bisons, still seven points away from a playoff berth, blasted highly touted Cleveland, 11 to 3, last night at Buffalo. Two Buffalo players, Tom Johnson and Floyd Curry chipped in with "hat tricks".

Butler Battles

BUTLER—The Butler Boosters will meet the Lexington Merchants in an independent basketball game set for 8:30 p.m. tonight in the Butler high gym. Butler eighth graders and Brinkerhoff of Mansfield will meet in the 7:30 preliminary.

State Second Best Shooting Club In Big 9

CHICAGO — (UP) — Minnesota and Ohio State, matched this Saturday at Columbus, are the only big nine basketball teams hitting on better than 30 per cent of their field goal attempts, official league statistics showed today.

The Gophers, in first place in the league race, have banged the net at a .338 clip while Ohio State boasts a .313 mark.

In free throws Purdue has the best average, .658.

Ohio State had the best scoring mark per game, however, with an average tally of 58.5 points per contest. Purdue was second with an average of 54.7.

DEFENSIVE GOPHERS

Defensively Minnesota was far the best. Its opponents have averaged only 39.1 points per conference game while second-place Michigan's mark was 44.5.

Individually Minnesota had the top two scorers with center Jim McIntyre in the lead with 112 points. Meyer Skoog, a sophomore forward, was second with 111. However, Ohio State's Dick Schnittker, who missed two games because of illness had the best scoring average per game, 18.8, and the best individual percentage on field goal accuracy, .421.

Public School Skate Show Scheduled Saturday Morn

Latest influx of cold weather has put one of Mansfield's two ice skating shows back on the books while a tentative date has been set for the second carnival.

Harry Mehock announced today that the sixth annual Mansfield public school meet will be run off starting Saturday morning at 10 a. m. on the North Lake park ice. At the same time, Director Stan Kamen said the second annual News-Journal Silver Skates would probably go on Feb. 13.

The N-J "blade" competition date is contingent on the success of the public schools meet. If the North Lake ice does not hold up under the 400 public school skaters, officials may be forced to call off the Silver Skates.

Both ice shows were postponed on their original dates last month.

WORK ON ARENA

Frank Burton, parks superintendent said today, that every effort would be made to have the arena ready for both meets.

Grade school and junior high boy and girl skaters will compete in the Saturday show. Events will include: 50, 100, 220 and 440 dashes; four-lap relay and figure skating. Ribbons will go to the first five finishers while a cup will be presented to the winning elementary school.

Entry list for the News-Journal competition opens again today. New deadline for entries has been set for Feb. 11 at midnight. Present entry list includes 25 skaters in the open division and 45 in the high school section.

There is no entry fee and winners in each event will receive a miniature silver skate. First five placers will get ribbons.

Ewart Picked Bulldog Coach

NEW YORK, — (INS) — The New York Bulldogs, soft spot in the National football league's battered front, called in the FBI today.

Ted Collins, owner of the Erstwhile Boston Yankees, who will occupy New York's polo grounds as the Bulldogs next fall, named onetime Yale quarterback and Federal Bureau Of Investigation agent Charlie Ewart as his head coach.

For the past three seasons, Ewart has been backfield coach of the national league champion Philadelphia Eagles. Last season he served also as general manager.

NEW YORK — (AP) — The New York Yankees yesterday signed their first negro baseball player — outfielder Luis Marquez of the Baltimore Elite Giants.

John Simpson Basketballers Top Ram Club

By TOM McCULLOCH

Revenge was on the minds of the John Simpson basketball team as it smothered the Madison reserves by a score of 42-14 yesterday afternoon on the Simpson court. Simpson had previously lost to Madison in an overtime, 31-29.

Simpson snapped into an 8-0 lead before Madison scored its first point and coasted from there on. The Bulldogs led 12-3 at the quarter and 21-7 at the half.

LEADS OFFENSE

Benny Carbetta led Simpson's "ball control" offense with 16 points, the most points made by any Simpson player this season. Bill Semenoff was next with 11 counters.

Simpson made two of nine foul shots while the visitors put in only six of 26 gratis throws.

Simpson's reserves put another victory in their bag as they took Madison's second-string reserves, 19-13, in overtime. The game was tied 13-all at the end of the official four stanzas but Simpson got hot in the extra three minutes to score six straight points. Jones of Simpson and Brown of Madison tied for honors with six points apiece.

Big 9 Teams Must Win On Road

By ED SAINSBURY

CHICAGO — (UP) — The old story that a team must be successful away from home to win the big nine basketball championship is coming true again this season.

Thus far only two clubs boast a winning percentage on foreign courts, and sure enough, those two teams are Minnesota and Illinois. Each has won two of three contests away from home, and the result is they virtually share the big nine lead.

The Gophers, who have played more games, have a percentage advantage over Illinois. On the road Minnesota triumphed over Purdue at LaFayette, 67 to 52, and over Iowa at Iowa City, 61 to 45, but lost to Illinois at Champaign, 45 to 44.

The Illini beat Indiana, 44 to 42, in a double overtime at Bloomington and edged Ohio state, 64 to 63, at Columbus, but the fast breaking Champaign quintet went down before Purdue, 55 to 53 at LaFayette.

Only one other team in the conference has won two games away from home. Purdue beat Ohio state at Columbus, 66 to 56, and Northwestern in the Chicago stadium, 60 to 54, but the Boilermakers also dropped two contests away for a .500 road percentage. Purdue's record away from home has carried it to undisputed third place in league standings.

Ohio state was the only other team to win on the road, beating Wisconsin 57 to 54, at Madison. Every other team in the league is winless on a foreign court.

Coaches figure that the home court is worth at least eight points to a basketball team. Thus far the big nine race supports the theory, and probably Minnesota and Illinois will settle the chase for the title on foreign courts the rest of the way.

Each has three games more to play away from home, and the advantage would seem to go to the Illini. Minnesota meets Ohio State at Columbus Saturday, and the Buckeyes, even though losing to Illinois at home, still rate as one of the league's best.

Last year only one conference team finished with a winning road percentage, Michigan's champions winning four and losing two. Three teams, Indiana, Northwestern and Ohio State failed to win a single one of six road games.

If either Minnesota or Illinois can come up with a four-two or five-one record away from home this year, it ought to mean a championship.

Cage Race Back To Normal With RI State On Top

NEW YORK — (AP) — Things were normal in the Major College National Basketball scoring race today for the first time this season — Rhode Island state was in the lead.

Perennial winner of the team offense race, Rhode Island climbed to first this time without playing. The New England club has averaged 72.4 points for 11 games, put hasn't played since Jan. 22.

Oklahoma A. and M., of course, is the No. 1 club defensively. The aggies have limited 13 opponents to 33.7 points a game. They won it a year ago with 32.5.

Cincinnati, top point-getter every week previously this season, fell to third place with a 69.2 point average for 14 games. The villans in the act for the Bearcats were the Phillips oilers who held them to 34 points last week and West Virginia which held them to 63.

National collegiate athletic bureau statistics showed Yale in second place in offense with 70.3 points per game and Siena of Albany, N. Y., second in defense with 40.8. The figures incluce games through Jan. 29.

Indian Relief Hurler's Out Of Retirement

CLEVELAND — (INS) — "Mr. Bones" will be back in '49, a fact for which manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians no doubt is deeply grateful.

"Mr. Bones," otherwise known as Russ Christopher, ace relief hurler, returned his signed contract to the tribe front office yesterday under the following arrangements:

1. He will not report at the regular opening of spring training March 1 in Tucson, Ariz.
2. Instead, he will be allowed to join the defending world baseball champions about 10 days before the season opens.
3. He will never pitch more than three or four innings at a stretch.
4. He will undergo an examination every month or six weeks.

ADVICE OF DOCTOR

Christopher, who along with Ed. Klieman formed Cleveland's almost unbeatable one-two relief combine early last season, informed the ball club that his decision not to retire from baseball was made on the advice of a Los Angeles heart specialist, Dr. Myron Princmetal.

Dr. Princmetal reportedly told Christopher that the heart ailment which threatened to cut short his baseball career, the result of a case of rheumatic fever when he was a boy, would stand up under another season's play and likely also would respond somewhat to proper treatment.

The gangling Christopher, obtained by the tribe last spring from the Philadelphia A's, appeared in 45 games, winning three and losing two with a remarkable earned-run-average of 2.9. Only five times did he go longer than two innings, however.

Agitate For Irish In Bowl Game

By LAWTON CARVER
(INS Sports Editor)

NEW YORK — Agitation is on for Notre Dame to play a post-season football game, and this pressure isn't coming from some of the bowl promoters, but from South Bend, Ind.,—home town of the university.

Latest log to be dropped on the flickering flame which breaks out into a full-fledged conflagration of speculation each fall comes from Jim Costin, South Bend Tribune columnist.

Costin points out that he has been among those in agreement with Notre Dame officials against post-season games, but he adds that "circumstances have now altered cases."

By this he means that Notre Dame needs better basketball facilities and has no way of acquiring them without picking up some of that easy post-season football money.

Point is made of the fact that North Carolina and Oklahoma received $108,000 each for their appearance in the New Year's Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans.

Costin points out that 25 years ago Notre Dame's basketball facilities were even worse than now. Home games were played on the dirt floor of the present gym with accommodations for about 1,200 spectators.

But Knute Rockne was a realist. He persuaded officials to permit him to take his four horsemen and seven mules into the 1925 Rose Bowl game, and there not only walloped Pop Warner's Stanford team, 27 to 10, but also picked up $50,000 to build a basketball court as an addition to the old gym.

That was great as long as it lasted, but Notre Deme's present facilities for about 3,800 basketball spectators are obsolete, not to say downright cramping and just a little embarrassing when compared with other schools.

Insofar as Sam Sausage, the man in the street, is concerned those other schools are merely suburbs of Notre Dame. There are people in New York, for instance, who are convinced that Notre Dame was built primarily to provide an opponent for Yankee Stadium each fall.
